Truman Not Going To Resign, Report From Washington Says

RUSS THRONGS SEE SHOW OF ARMY MIGHT

Military Parade Emphasizes Anniversary Speech on Preparedness.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, Nov. 7—Thousands [illegible] Red Square today to [illegible] a display of Soviet military [illegible] a celebration of the [illegible] anniversary of the Bolshevist [illegible] highlighted by an order of the day declaring Russian preparedness was necessary to guarantee peace and security throughout the world.

The parade began after the [illegible] formal greeting to troops, delivered by Marshal Leonid Govorov, 49-year-old hero of Leningrad.

(Moscow dispatches gave no indication that Prime Minister Stalin's speech ended the celebrations. The fact the speech preceding the parade was delivered by Govorov suggested that, for the second successive year Stalin shunned the limelight. Likewise, the order of the day was signed by the deputy minister for defense and not by the prime minister. A year ago Stalin broke a precedent by allowing Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov to deliver the "state of the nation" address, and did not attend the ceremonies.")

Icy Rain Falls

An icy light rain fell on Moscow on this first day of a three-day celebration for which all cities throughout the Soviet Union were decked in red flags and portraits of Stalin and other Russian leaders.

Announcers describing the parade—one of the smallest anniversary military displays in years—spoke frequently of Russia's demobilization, and repeated Stalin's statement that the nation had only 60 incomplete divisions in the army and shortly was to have but 40.

(The Moscow radio, heard in London, quoted Govorov as saying in his keynote speech that Russia would "fight untiringly for a lasting, stable and democratic peace," a cause he said would triumph "despite the intrigues of the forces of world reaction.")

The order of the day, signed by Vice Minister of Defense Nikola Bulganin, told the Russians there was no direct threat of war at the present time, but cautioned them against complacency.

Constant fighting readiness of the Soviet army and navy," the order said, "is the guarantee of the security of our country and a sound peace throughout the world."

After the military came the civilians, carrying posters and slogans and shouting their greetings to the Soviet leaders reviewing the display from the top of Lenin's tomb.

NO DECONTROL SLOWING SEEN

OPA Official Says Freeing of Markets To Continue at Present Pace.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—A top government official said today there would be no slackening of price and wage decontrol in the wake of the administration's election debacle.

Even as OPA posted higher prices for many infants' and children's cotton garments and some other clothing items, this official told a reporter "the chances are better than 50-50" that price controls on all wearing apparal and textiles would be removed "very soon."

This action may be taken when OPA's socalled master decontrol list is announced, possibly this weekend. Elimination of price ceilings on clothing and textiles automatically would free these industries of wage controls.

"Both price and wage decontrol will continue to be speeded up all along the line as outlined by President Truman when he announced the end of meat ceilings," a high official said.

He added that heads of government agencies concerned have been holding conferences to determine whether such items as automobiles and basic commodities like coal, building materials, steel and other metals should be freed of controls at this time.

"We may have to keep controls on in those fields for a while, but the whole matter still is wide open," the official said. "It would be difficult to hold prices there while virtually everything else is decontrolled."

The official added that much consideration was being given to contractors' contentions that the veterans' housing program would move along faster if building materials were decontrolled. Housing Administrator Wilson Wyatt has opposed removing these ceilings.

Tied to the forthcoming announcement of OPA's decontrol list will be the administration's decision on what to do about the wage stabilization board.

The future of this panel has been in doubt since industry members of the board submitted their resignations early in October. Labor and public members stayed on, but there have been demands by both business and union leaders that the board be scrapped.

Officials familiar with administration discussion of the board predicted, however, that it probably would be retained in modified form to carry on residual wage control functions.

Major decontrol actions yesterday lifted price ceilings from household vacuum cleaners and attachments, feathers and down, domestic ironing machines and clothes dryers, and mouton lamb and rabbit fur skins.

STATE G.O.P. LEADERS TALK TAX REDUCTION

Newly-Elected Chiefs Debate Ohio, National Levy Shaving.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 7—Ohio Republicans, suddenly finding themselves given almost all they asked of the state's voters, were concerned today with a favorite topic—state and national tax reduction.

John W. Bricker, Republican senator-elect and a 1948 Presidential possibility, and George Bender, reelected to the state's at-large seat in congress, joined Thomas J. Herbert, Ohio's 1947-48 governor, in promises to work toward lower taxes.

Bricker defeated U. S. Senator James W. Huffman, Democrat, by 318,754 votes in a tabulation of all but two of the state's 9,352 polling places. The count was Bricker 1,264,126, Huffman 945,372.

The two missing polling places are in Erie county. The ballots were impounded pending an inquiry today.

Herbert committed himself yesterday, soon after he had defeated Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche by a thin 38,000 votes, to an attempt "to straighten out Ohio's tax muddle." He mentioned specifically a possible one-cent cut in the three per cent retail sales tax.

Bricker, three times governor of Ohio and unsuccessful Republican Vice Presidential nominee in 1944, declared that "there should be a cut in the federal income tax so people can have more use of their own money. Taxes now are stifling private enterprise."

He emphasized that he was speaking only for himself but indicated that he expected little disagreement from the other Ohio Republicans.

Requests Expense Cut

George Bender, reelected to the congressman-at-large post by a 1,276,560 to 871,190 margin over State Sen. William M. Boyd of Cleveland, declared, however, that "before there can be any tax reduction, we must cut federal expenses."

"Speaking for myself only," said Bender, ranking minority member of the house committee on executive department expenses, "I think we must keep our campaign pledge of cutting people off the federal pay rolls where it is essential, where they are wasteful, and where it is necessary to balance the federal budget."

Bender also endorsed a suggestion by Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) that in view of the national Republican landslide, President Truman should appoint a Republican secretary of state, then resign so the latter could become President.

"I think the Fullbright suggestion is excellent and I'm for it," Bender said, "although knowing human nature and knowing how the President loves his job, I doubt that he will take it seriously."

Taft Sees Progress

Taft's comment on the election was, "under Republican leadership we can sit down calmly and work out the constructive measures necessary for peace, for full employment under private enterprise, and for social welfare, while leaving the people free to run their own affairs."

Taft, reelected to a second term in 1944, will not face a senatorial

Hope Is Raised For Reaching Community Fund Drive Goal

Hopes for reaching Marion's Community Foundation goal of $67,190 were high today after division heads reported at a meeting in the Community Foundation office, 142 East Center street, last night that the amount solicited to date was within $10,000 of the goal.

Reports made at last night's meeting showed $57,118.04 has been collected and division workers were confident the goal would be reached, since there still are many cards outstanding in the city and the county.

Plan New Step

At last night's session it was decided a recommendation would be made to trustees of the Community Foundation for a blanket report of all business, professional and manufacturing groups, to be published, showing the total contributions of each classification. The recommendation will be made at a meeting of the trustees next Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.

Last night's reports showed several of the classifications were nearing their quotas, while others were considerably short. Amounts received by the various classifications compared to their quotas are as follows: large industry, reported $15,942.70, quota $23,110, smaller industry, reported $5,659.75, quota $5,680, utilities and transportation, reported $6,653.50, quota $7,500, national stores, reported $3,595.75, quota $4,100, commercial, reported $12,447.50, quota $11,000, government and public employes, reported $1,388.19, quota $2,000, schools, reported $862, quota $1,000, county, reported $1,874.15, quota $1,000, general, reported $8,694.50, quota $8,800.

$1,400 LEFT IN CAR REPORTED MISSING

Loss Discovered When Bank Book Is Found.

David K. McKinney, 26, of the McKinney Motor Sales, told police Wednesday that $1,400 was lost or stolen from his car between 5 p. m. Tuesday and Wednesday morning.

Bank books and checks, included with the money in a bank deposit bag, were also missing, he said.

Mr. McKinney said he left the McKinney garage on North Main street about 5 p. m. intending to place the money in a bank night depository. There was no parking place available, however, so he went to the postoffice and then to his home at 180 East Washington avenue.

Tuesday evening he went to a theater and parked the car at the rear of Central Junior High school. Wednesday morning Arthur Wilson of the Marion Milling Co. called McKinney, saying he had found one of his bank books and McKinney discovered the bank bag was missing.

Administration, Mine Union Pitch Into Coal Situation Anew

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—The administration and the United Mine Workers, both well aware of strong Republican support for legislative strike curbs, pitched into the critical coal situation anew today.

The top questions were:

(1) Would the G.O.P. election victory change the government's plans for coping with the implied strike threat by 400,000 miners.

(2) Would it make John L. Lewis think twice before calling an edge-of-winter walkout by the UMW to back up his demands for government concessions to the union.

As talks continued between Lewis' aides and Coal Mines Administrator N. H. Collisson, it remained to be seen whether the administration would adopt a firmer policy toward Lewis in line with earlier Republican proposals to restrict some union activities, particularly those relating to walkouts.

With the Republicans due to take over control when congress reconvenes Jan. 3, the dilemma posed by Lewis and his miners rose to paramount importance in the field of labor relations.

Some labor leaders freely predicted an attempt to write stringent strike-control legislation, noting that in the last session, the Republicans displayed somewhat more ardor than the Democrats for such action.

At the same time, however, both AFL and CIO officials said they expected the G.O.P. leadership—with a weather eye cocked on the 1948 presidential election—to refrain from antagonizing labor.

Two government agencies were occupied with Lewis labor disputes today:

1. The national labor relations board tackled the controversy over unionizing mine supervisors. The case involves foremen at four Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation mines in Pennsylvania.

2. The coal mines administration, in an effort to avert a possible new coal mines shutdown Nov. 20 kept up its talks over the issue of higher pay.

Lewis himself has not attended any of the conferences with Collisson which began last Friday. The mine leader's plan for ending the contract calls for 15 days of negotiation and five more days of notice before terminating Nov. 20.

The UMW president has held off making his wage demands known until the return of Secretary Krug from the West Coast. Krug, who signed the present agreement with Lewis, completed his scheduled program of inspections and speeches last night in Los Angeles.

NO NEW OHIO TAXES SEEN

Commissioner Tells Chamber of Commerce Need Doesn't Exist.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 7—The state tax commissioner told the Ohio Chamber of Commerce today that he saw "no need now or in the foreseeable future for new or increased taxes," by the state.

"Today, too much of the earnings of our people goes to the support of government," declared C. Emory Glander in a prepared speech before a Chamber of Commerce taxation forum.

"I want to see a reduction in both federal and state taxes."

If the trend toward higher taxes is continued, Glander said, it "will inevitably and materially lower the American standard of living and it will stop the flow of new capital into productive enterprises."

Glander explained the reasons for and the history behind the statewide tax survey now being conducted by the state department of taxation, and asserted the major problem was not new taxes to provide additional income for local governments but a "dovetailing of taxes."

He disclosed the state sales tax will yield about $100,000,000, about $30,000,000 more than it produced last year.

"There has likewise been an increase in the yield of all other taxes levied by the state," Glander said.

"As a consequence the surplus in the state treasury continues to pile up. Part of this surplus may be needed to meet the tremendous increases and building and other costs."

"For example I am told that bids on building projects previously authorized by the legislature are running from 25 to 75 per cent over original estimates. Nevertheless, I see no immediate need for additional state revenues."

SHOVEL CO. MEETING ADJOURNS TO DEC. 12

Shareholders Session Called on Stock Proposal.

A special meeting of the shareholders of the Marion Power Shovel Co., called this morning for the purpose of submitting to preferred and common stockholders a proposal to authorize an issue of $15,000 shares of 4½ per cent prior preferred stock at $100 par value, was adjourned until Thursday, Dec. 12.

The meeting was held in the company offices on West Center street with M. E. Montrose, president and general manager, presiding as chairman.

The meeting was adjourned to give all stockholders ample opportunity to consider fully the contemplated program and to make inquiries regarding it before the Dec. 12 meeting.

Upon authorization by the shareholders of the new prior preferred stock, a formal offer would be made to exchange on a voluntary basis each share of 7 per cent preferred into one share of 4½ per cent prior preferred, plus not less than six nor more than eight shares of common stock as may be determined by the directors at the time of the offering.

GI TRAINING INCREASES

CINCINNATI, Nov. 7—Enrolees in the veterans administration training program in southern Ohio increased by 7,742 during October, the local VA headquarters for the area reported today. A total of 36,395 veterans now are pursuing courses of training in colleges and industrial plants in the 50-county area under supervision of the Cincinnati regional VA office.

Truman Faces Choice Of 3 New Moves

Cooperation, Fight or Reorganization Possible Political Decisions.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7 — President Truman, his administration rebuked at the polls, faced with outward calm today three political decisions which could alter the course of American and world events.

Mr. Truman apparently must decide:

1. Whether he shall compromise with the Republican dominated congress on controversial domestic and foreign issues, or challenge it and fight back with Democratic-supported vetoes.

2. Whether he shall attempt to lead his own party back toward the more conservative line that appeared to be popularized by Tuesday's sweeping GOP victories or steer it even more forcefully toward the opposite side of center.

3. Whether he shall attempt to rally dispersed Democratic forces around himself as a candidate for reelection in 1948 or prepare to step aside then for some other nominee.

Mr. Truman gave no indication that he was considering with any seriousness the outcropping of suggestions that he supplant Secretary of State Byrnes with a Republican — presumably Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan — and then resign to permit that Republican to become President for full G. O. P. control of the government.

Backed by Newspaper

This suggestion, first made by Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.) and supported by Rep. Luther Patrick (D-Ala.), was taken up editorially by the Chicago Sun, a strong backer of the late President Roosevelt's administration but a sometime critic of the Truman course.

The Sun, in an open letter to Mr. Truman from publisher Marshall Field, said it would be "a patriotic and courageous" step for the President to heed the "unmistakable verdict" of Tuesday's voters and turn all of the government over to the Republicans.

But the Washington Post, independent in politics, asserted that any such action "would be a confession of pusillanimity of which Harry Truman has never been accused."

Associates of the President were inclined to agree that Mr. Truman being a reasonably stubborn man from Missouri, will not quit. They said he was likely to follow the course of doing what he thinks is best for the nation in the next two years and letting the political consequences fall where they may.

Up To Truman

Republican National Chairman Carroll Reece said it was "a matter between the President and his conscience" to whether Mr. Truman should resign. The constitution mentions the possibility of a Presidential resignation, but does not say to whom it may be submitted. There is no precedent, for no President ever has resigned.

Mr. Truman may give some clues about his thoughts on the matter at a news conference, probably next week. His next scheduled public talk is an Armistice Day broadcast Monday.

This much is clear.

For the first time in 14 years the 80th congress which convenes next January will be controlled by the party which does not hold the White House.

Hold Both Houses

Tuesday's landslide swept the Republicans to a three-vote majority in the senate and at least a 28-member advantage in the house. Two house races still were undecided on late returns, with the Republican leading in one and the Democrat in the other. Aside from these the Republicans had elected 246 members, the Democrats 186 and American Labor one.

The senate division stood at 51 Republicans and 42 Democrats, with the Democrats leading by comfortable, if not decisive margins in three contests not yet settled.

Advisers who want the Democratic party to be labelled unmistakably as the liberal political organ contend that if Mr. Truman hews to the course fixed by the late President Roosevelt the Democratic party will stand to benfit in 1948 from any mistakes the Republican congress might make in the next two years.

James Roosevelt, son of the late President and California state Democratic chairman, put this

NO THOUGHT AT ALL GIVEN TO POSSIBILITY

President, Aides Decline To Dignify Suggestion by Comment.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—President Truman is not going to resign and has not even seriously considered the possibility. This can be reported without qualification.

The suggestion that Mr. Truman appoint a Republican secretary of state and resign to permit the G.O.P. to take over the presidency came from Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.).

It was echoed in some newspapers normally Democratic, but Rep. Sparkman (D-Ala.) asserted that such a step was "not the thing to do."

The attitude around the White House today was that the suggestion should not be dignified by comment either from the President or any member of his staff.

Won't "Run Out on Job"

It was known that Mr. Truman himself felt that to resign now after the Democrats' crushing election defeat, would be to run out on the job.

Moreover, the President is known to hold to the view that he should not change the American constitutional system by such a move.

Some political observers also are strongly of the opinion that the Republicans themselves would not want a Democrat to choose a President for them. Such would be the case if Mr. Truman followed the course Fulbright suggests.

There also was a question as to whom the President might submit a resignation even if he had such a thought in mind.

Persons in a position to know said there had been "very little discussion" around the White House about the future course of the administration.

Caught Head Cold

Mr. Truman came back from voting in Missouri with a head cold. He spent most of yesterday resting and cancelled all engagements today except an afternoon call from Foreign Minister Molotov of Russia.

There seemed little prospect of any direct statement by the President until next week on either Fulbright's suggestion or the Chief Executive's reaction to the election outcome.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters in midmorning Mr. Truman would not hold a news conference this week. Mr. Truman himself had told news men seeking his reaction yesterday that he would see them in a day or two.

Concerned at Reaction

As far as the election is concerned, close friends said, Mr. Truman is far more concerned about foreign reaction to the Democratic defeat than he is about his own political future.

These members of the Chief Executive's inner circle said he would emphasize in the two years ahead the two-party support behind the the nation's foreign policy voiced by Secretary of State James F. Byrnes. This policy has been firmly endorsed by Repub-

TONS OF WOOL RUINED BY PHILADELPHIA FIRE

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7—A four alarm fire swept three warehouses in the waterfront district early today, destroying tons of wooden crates and $250,000 worth of wool before it was brought under control more than two hours after it was discovered.

David Howard, 39, a fireman, was seriously injured when a wall he was scaling collapsed, hurling him to the ground. He was taken to Jefferson hospital where physicians said he sustained serious chest injuries.

Searchers continued probing the ruins for others who may have been trapped in the debris.

Acting Battalion Chief William Simmler said he believed the blaze started in the four story brick warehouse from a cigaret discarded among the wooden crates and spread to an adjoining five story wool warehouse and a smaller warehouse.

Within an hour after the four alarms brought scores of men and more than 30 engines to the scene, flames still mounted 60 feet above the buildings, lighting up the waterfront area.

Traffic was rerouted during the blaze which showered sparks over the waterfront.

Schools Closed As Teachers Protest 5-Mill Levy Defeat

By The Associated Press

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 7—A teachers protest against defeat of a school levy intended to supply them with salary increases today closed the public schools of suburban Hubbard until further notice.

The suburb's school board announced schools would remain closed indefinitely after about 1,900 pupils were dismissed from classes yesterday when 50 teachers met to discuss the levy's defeat.

Although virtually all other issues in neighboring Trumbull county were approved in Tuesday's voting, Hubbard electors defeated a 5-mill school levy proposal 1,330 to 1,227.

Three-fifth of the proceeds would have been used to pay higher salaries to teachers, and Carl Wolter, school board president, said teachers felt let down by the rejection of the proposal. Grade teachers' salaries now range from $1,200 to $2,150 a year and high school teachers pay from $1,400 to $2,600, Wolter reported.

Kenneth St. John, president of the Hubbard local, American Federation of Teachers (AFL), said no strike action had been considered and expressed hope a strike could be averted.

A group of school children yesterday demonstrated in front of the home of Mrs. Edith R. Phillips who resigned from the Hubbard school board last spring.

Mrs. Phillips told newsmen she sent out 2,000 letters urging defeat of the school levy for the purpose of "unseating the present board of education and school superintendent, L. A. Sprague." She proposed that married women be drafted if the present teaching staff does not resume its duties.

REFORMATORY LAYS STAGE SHOW PLANS

Women at Marysville To Appear on Stage.

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, O., Nov. 7—The annual show, staged by the inmates of the Ohio Reformatory for Women at Marysville will be held next week, Supt. Marguerite Reiley announced today.

The show, open to the public with stage six performances on Sunday afternoon Nov. 10, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Nov. 12, 13, 14, Saturday Nov. 16, and again on Sunday, Nov. 17. The week day shows will start at 8 p. m. while the Sunday performances will be held at 2 p. m.

Titled the "Fall Festival" proceeds from the all-inmate show will be used for the institution's welfare fund which supplies inmates at Marysville with movies and other recreation projects. Admission to the show will be 75 cents on week day evenings, and $1 on Sunday afternoons.

Mrs. Reiley said that reformatory officials were undecided until recently whether to stage their annual show this year. However, requiring showing much public interest in the production caused officials to go ahead with the 1946 production.

During the last show staged by inmates in the spring of 1943, more than 4,000 persons witnessed the six public performances.

In this years production, a cast of about 50 inmates will be used and will feature the river boat, Gordon C. Greene, upon which the Reileys took a most enjoyable trip to New Orleans and return last spring. Girls who take part in the show are members of the institution's dramatic organization and must earn the right to participate in shows by possessing good conduct records in recent months.

As in years past, the 1946 production will consist of individual performances of dancing, singing, and acrobatics with the institution's best talent included in the show.

The production staff includes Tresor Wilson, musical director, Jean Gochel, dancing and stage director; Mrs. Reiley, costumes.

The Ohio Reformatory for Women at Marysville is rated among the country's outstanding institutions of its type, many of the programs there having won national recognition in penal circles.

Between the year 932 and 953 the major Chinese classics were printed in 130 volumes.

Moslems Celebrate Ramadan with Prayers, Fasts and Alms

By The Associated Press

Now is the time for ... fasting for more ... Moslems through... world—Ramadan, ninth ... Mohammedan calen... ...ers of the prophet ... dawn until sunset. Ex... ...ers, travelers and the ... by the Koran, but ... special alms to the ... their fasts later. ... a month of prayer ... reflection. Verses of ... are chanted in the ... which at night are bril... ...colored lights. It is also ... generosity to the poor. ... and politics take a back ...

Some Arabic scholars say Ramadan means the time of "intense heat" because in the first year of Islam Ramadan fell in midsummer. Others connect it with the word "ramid," which means ashes, signifying spiritual mortification.

The Moslem calendar is lunar, ... which occurs about 11 days earlier each year, runs from one new moon to the next, about 29½ days. It began this year July 29.

The Koran defines daylight hours as those in which it is possible to distinguish between white and black string. But in Egypt observatories issue dawn and dusk tables which are published in the newspapers and distributed by business firms.

Two meals are taken, iftar—breakfast—after sunset and sohoor before dawn, usually between 1 and 2 a. m.

In the larger cities, guns announce the meal hours. In the smaller towns and villages, special criers, Mussah-haratiya, walk the streets beating drums and singing songs, beginning at midnight. Many shops and cafes remain open all night. Children carrying colored lanterns also wander the streets singing.

On the 27th of Ramadan comes Laylat El Kadr—the Night of Power, anniversary of the first Koran revelation to the prophet. Ramadan's end is the three-day festival of Bairam, observed by public prayers and feasting.

PILES ARE NEVER "MILD"

DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formation without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its rundown tired feeling and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief — written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.

Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free.

American Farmers Turning Rapidly To Use of Airplanes

By International News Service

WASHINGTON — The Civil Aeronautics administration today hailed the ingenuity of American fliers in continuing to "produce new uses for the small airplane" —particularly in agriculture.

CAA said that rural use of the airplane is growing and shows promise of commercializing crop-dusting and spraying — even though this kind of flying is generally performed by the owner of the land or by one of his steady employes. The agency added:

"It is estimated that a third more farmers are buying airplanes than city dwellers—in proportion to the percentage of the population that each group represents.

CAA observers said that for some rural owners the airplane has become a "farming tool like the automobile and telephone" and that aviation has speeded up their business.

Among the new jobs seen by CAA for private-owners are observation and maintenance of windmills on very large ranches, hunting, herding, planting of crops and crop protection.

The agency claimed that hunting down and shooting coyotes from the air is now a favorite and profitable sport, or business, of ranchers who own planes.

In addition to the "already-established" commercial business of crop spraying and dusting, some ranchers are using planes as "cowponies" to aid in cattle roundups, and many farmers are planting such crops as rice, wheat, barley, clover, alfalfa and oats by air.

CAA added that the airplane is even being used to spread fertilizer, spray soil solutions and stock streams and lakes with fish.

The department praised young Americans returning from the global air war for their originality in finding new jobs for planes in commercial and industrial life.

It anticipates that flying of fire fighters to areas where they can head off forest fires may replace the old method of dropping extinguishing chemical from planes.

More and more companies have made arrangements with aircraft operators for the patrolling of their pipe, power and telephone lines and the transportation of repairmen to the scene of breaks.

Low cost surplus planes has "persuaded" many commercial firms to buy planes for their executives.

O.W.U. Vetville Now Has Own Newspaper

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, Nov. 7 — Ohio Wesleyan's Vetville, the state's first trailer city for married students, is such a busy little city of 59 families this season that it now has its own weekly newspaper, "The Dishrag," which has just made its initial appearance in the town that mushroomed last year on a women's athletic field.

Mayor Jim Madison, Piqua, O., too busy with politics to play varsity football this year, pushed through an ordnance that made the "Rag" a community-owned publication to help put across his ambitious civic program for the little town. C. M. Chapman, Rushsylvania, O., is editor of the paper.

YOUR HEALTH

By BERNARD BUNDESEN, M.D.

Stomach Block

SOMETIMES, within a week or so after birth, babies will show an intolerance for food. No matter how hungry they may seem or with what relish they nurse, within a few hours they vomit all they have eaten. Mothers are likely to think that there is something wrong with the food to make it "disagree" with the baby, but doctors know that this condition is due to something entirely different—a thickening and contraction of the pyloric sphincter or the circular muscle that controls the opening between the stomach and the first part of the bowel.

This results in the condition known as pyloric stenosis in which the passageway between the stomach and bowel is blocked. Since food and fluids cannot get through into the intestine, where absorption into the tissues takes place, the baby undergoes gradual starvation along with dehydration or lack of fluid in the tissues, a combination which is likely to prove fatal if not corrected.

Formerly pyloric stenosis was treated almost exclusively by operation and, while this gave good results in most cases, it also made for some danger. Now, Dr. Norman M. Jacoby of England has found that the disorder can be relieved medically in many instances by giving a medicine which will relax the sphincter muscle.

In carrying out the medical treatment, the amount of food given to the baby is reduced. Every possible effort should be made to get breast milk for the baby. A preparation known as atropine methyl nitrate is given by dropping it into the back of the baby's mouth 15 minutes before four of the feeders on the first day, and before three of the feedings on the second or third day. When the vomiting has stopped the preparation is given three times a week for about 16 weeks.

If pyloric stenosis begins before the second week and the baby is severely dehydrated, operation should be performed. The operation is not done if the baby has some infection or diarrhea. Those cases treated medically by Dr. Jacoby were of the type whose symptoms begin in the fourth week or later, and in whom the vomiting has been continuous for several weeks before the baby is first seen.

Fifty patients treated according to this plan by Dr. Jacoby were all cured, and it would seem that his plan is a good one. In other words, every baby with pyloric stenosis should be treated medically if his condition is not too bad, before surgery is done.

The Will To Denazify

LT. GEN. Lucius D. Clay's scolding of high German officials in the United States zone of Germany for their failure to denazify the area suggests that making a silk purse out of a sow's ear may be less difficult than making a democracy out of the German reich.

The denazify program from the start was to be something different, and the Germans have certainly caught the right interest in being different. They rallied behind Hitler and turned away from democratic ideals in the late 20's and early 30's because Hitler promised what they wanted—a military state. They are contrite now, as they were after defeat in World War I, but the safest bet in the world is that sooner or later Germany will try another experiment in militarism. When that happens, international security will depend on what other nations can do to prevent the government from exploding into a new war. In the years before the beginning of World War II, they could do nothing. It took a war to unite them in their common defense. Germans again are hoping for the same break. They will be as good at they have to be to win time for another experiment with militarism. Gen. Clay, American deputy governor of the American zone, is the first to say that they are not being good enough.

No Lack of Appreciation

IN THE hustle-bustle of the election windup, thousands of OPA workers received dismissal notices without the courtesy of letters of recommendation from the public they served.

In the absence of anything better, this clipping might help them out with their future employment:

To Whom It May Concern:

The bearer is of good character. He is known to be loyal. The reason he is seeking employment is because his previous employers, the American people, don't like the kind of government that treats them like dependent children. Through no fault of their own, these citizens representing the government's desire to keep on running a peacetime economy with wartime controls stayed around too long and finally were fired as a desperate last-minute sacrifice to the hungry gods of politics. But this happened too late. Not only the workers got fired, but the government itself got fired.

Besides being loyal, the bearer also is wiser than most citizens. He has learned a lesson about American resentment of statism. Many Americans never have learned this lesson. The bearer has. That is why he is the bearer. Be good to him. It is not his fault the bitter-enders in Washington didn't know when it was time to leave gracefully, but stayed on and on until it took a riot to convince them they had worn out their welcome.

The American Public

Henry Gets Scalpeled

REMEMBERING how Radio Moscow's advice to American voters boomeranged, Henry A. Wallace's hopeful backers must have winced when George Bernard Shaw came out in favor of their man for president.

Elsewhere, Shaw's antic was more mysterious than telling. For a man who prefers the scalpel to a cleaver, there was a disturbing resemblance to burlesque in the old Fabian's seemingly hearty endorsement of Helpful Henry.

He said in a telegram read at a celebration of the Fabian Society, modern version: "The only message I have for the moment is that the Fabian Society, having made Russia a great Fabian state, has now to make Wallace succeed Franklin Roosevelt as president of the United States."

Naturally, there is more to this than meets the eye. There always is when Shaw is busy with politics. The original Fabian Society, which he helped to start, wanted to reconstruct society in accordance with the "highest moral possibilities." The Fabians rejected revolution. They wanted to work within existing parties. What ultimately happened in Russia was a mockery of their kind of socialism. In fact, what ultimately happened in socialism was a mockery of Fabianism. Mr. Wallace, whether he knows it or not, has been scalpeled—by an expert.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Solution of Economic Woes Up To Politicians.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—Treasury Secretary Snyder announced it was bad psychology to talk about a depression—but it is left to now than before election. He urged the American producer cannot afford to be marketing what we're making for less as in order when the grass would be foolish to think ourselves in clover when the grass is coming thinner and the problem is to find more clover.

National business always gets down to the example of the typical individual business. In a customer stop the other day, a well dressed woman picked out a piece of meat, and after some consideration decided to take it—only she found the price was $2.75. She promptly said without any protest or grimace "That is more than I can pay." Immediately a poorly dressed person who obviously did not have as much as the woman stepped forward and said "I will take that piece of meat"—and he did.

Present Trouble

This shows exactly what is wrong behind the present business situation when you lay all politics aside. People are beginning to buy more wisely and discriminatingly than they did. They under Conditions force them to it. The great average of middle class incomes in this country has not risen like prices. These homes which comprise the bulk of the economic life of the nation have already recognized they cannot meet the push of inflationary prices by buying everything for any price. But the situation has been covered up in national statistics by the unwise, yet really poorer person, who will step forward and pay any price for anything, although he is the one whose money will run out first and then he will call for relief, socialism, revolution or what not.

Production is the life blood of the nation—but at prices at which the production can be consumed. The economic theory upon which the nation has been going is that if it can only get production, prices will readjust themselves. That is a sound theory. But we have not been getting that kind of production. In hardly any line have we managed to get enough production to influence prices downward—yet, as we see, a great many people cannot or will not buy at the current prices and quality. The nation has gotten into a production-price stalemate.

Impediment of Strikes

Strikes have proved the greatest impediment to the working of our sound basic economic theory. Destructive strikes have taken place lately, bitter, foolish strikes in which the strikers can never hope to make back the money they have lost by their strike—and the nation will have a hard time building back that lost portion of its life blood to protect itself from becoming increasingly anemic economically. In Knoxville, for instance, the Journal figures out that the Fulton-Sylphon strike (with which I am not acquainted) resulted in an economic settlement whereby the worker will be 9 years and 32 weeks making up the loss he incurred when he was out of work for 101 days.

The amount of money lost in the Washington hotel strike will never be made up. I have asked for figures and cannot get them, but they will show that the worker really struck against himself. He will not only be a long time getting back what he lost in pay, his fellow workers will never get their lost money back; and when you calculate the amount of money lost to business by the guests of the hotels — business from a contract which was not signed or business not done—you will see what these strikes are doing to a hopeful recovery period without even considering the amount of money lost by the management, which would be comparatively infinitesimal.

Or consider motors. We are simply not getting anywhere near the planned number of new cars because strikes in factories producing minor parts far down the production line are holding back the whole line. The impact loss of these strikes does not fall most heavily upon the management, but upon other workers in the automobile industry who cannot afford to lose the wages, and the public which cannot spend its money for a new car while it still has the money, instead of considerably frittering it away in unwise buying.

Factors for Success

This is our condition. It is only politically unwise for the party in power to have it talked around before an election. For our economic salvation it is of the utmost necessity that it be talked about, and solutions be found.

True enough this nation has every basic factor present for a successful high economy for years to come—a natural ability to produce fully, a plentiful availability of land upon which to grow and factories in which to produce, an adequate supply of labor and machines, a market yearning for every type of product after years of shortages, and a public with money to buy.

Yet there could be a depression wrought by our own foolishness and lack of sense to meet one of the easiest economic problems with which this nation has ever been faced. It is a problem the politicians will have to face now that election is over and face straightforwardly, because national psychology is already facing it in individual cases.

This Citizen Is In A Matrimonial Rut

A Reno barber has just been divorced by his twelfth wife. That relegates Manville to the semi-pro ranks.

Twelve wives—there's variety, if not safety, in numbers. He ought to know every reef in the sea of matrimony.

Alimony day at his house must resemble the corner grocery after the soap chips come in.

Incidentally, if you're appalled by the thought of 12 wives, consider the possibilities of 12 mothers-in-law.

A dozen, says he, is enough. He'll not try for 13. And not because he's superstitious, either.

In time, of course, he'll probably relent. Medical science has found remedies to many types of malignancies...but not to incurable optimism.

Good Government Still Pays

By RAYMOND MOLEY

THE outstanding certainty, as the votes were being cast in our states, was the conceded strength of specific Republicans in six states of the union. These are governors and former governors John W. Bricker, Raymond E. Baldwin and Edward Martin, running for the U. S. senate in Ohio, Connecticut and Pennsylvania; Governors Thomas E. Dewey and Edward J. Thye, running for reelection in New York and Minnesota, and Governor Earl Warren, at the head of both tickets in California. The reputation and strength of these men rests on a solid foundation of some years of serious, honest and efficient government of their states. They have simply been good governors. There are several other states where the same situation prevails, but these men are most prominent.

All of them, except Thye, were elected and some were reelected during the great Roosevelt ascendency. Thye succeeded Governor Harold E. Stassen, who had also been preferred in the face of Roosevelt ascendency in his state.

In this simple fact lies the greatest lesson that we can all derive from this election. It is also the fact that should most deeply impress triumphant Republicans as they face their responsibilities in the two years ahead.

Roosevelt Appeal

The Roosevelt regime was brought about by an appeal to another and quite different issue. It was an issue of social justice and humanitarianism. It was based on the assertion that Republican government, however technically efficient, had no heart for the underdog, the underprivileged, the exploited. When Roosevelt ran for reelection in 1936, he frankly confessed mistakes, but these, he said, were the mistakes of the "warm hearted." He never believed his administration was as technically efficient as it might have been, but he kept people's eyes on what he called his "objectives."

In those states where honesty and efficiency have been approved over and over by the voters, the Democratic opposition has depended on the old Roosevelt appeal to the "downtrodden." In New York this year that is about all they had to offer. It was an appeal to the past of Al Smith and Governor Roosevelt. It failed dismally.

It will take another turn of the wheel—another period of domestic stress—to make the old humanitarian appeal work again.

If the feelings of voters this year could be analyzed, it would probably be revealed that people generally have no quarrel with New Deal objectives. They believe that Roosevelt and Truman have wanted more for more people, that low prices, high wages, equality of opportunity, honest security markets, fair collective bargaining and social legislation are worth working for. But the incredible bureaucracy, the fumbling hand in private affairs, the reversals in administrative policy and the confusion have turned them away from the Democrats. They believe a change would help and they like the neat job that has been done nearer home, in their state capitals.

It's Still Basic

Good government has been sneered at by so-called progressives in the past. Years ago, a contemptuous epithet was coined: "goo-goo." It was supposed to apply to stuff, tight-lipped but efficient people who saw only lower taxes and tidy, honest public administration and who were coldly unaware of deep economic and social injustices.

For the progressives and New Dealers much must be said. They did turn the balance and correct many injustices. But these corrections are now fixed in the law—permanently and beyond argument.

Now the common sense of people turns to a competent running of the prosaic but vital affairs of government: sound finances, efficient care of the unfortunate, honestly built public works, helpful services to farmers and small businesses. All these have characterized many state governments while Washington has been tangled in its over-extended effort to do too much, too soon.

Perhaps this issue of good government is what might best carry Republicans to victory in 1948. It would certainly be a hopeful promise.

Republicans Must Prepare

By WALTER LIPPMANN

IT TAKES a long time under our system of government to change over from one party to the other. It can hardly be done in less than three years. During this period the break up and lose their ability to govern before the outs, who are going to replace them, can organize themselves, choose their leaders, and sort out their views. We are now in such a period. The decay of the Democratic administration, which began at least 18 months ago, is far advanced. But the Republican party is far from being ready to take over.

The change-over begins, of course, in congress when the administration can no longer command a working majority. President Truman since he took office, like Hoover after 1929-30, like Wilson after 1918-19, like Taft after 1909-10, has had no support and has faced a growing opposition in congress. But this opposition in congress is not necessarily, or even probably, as it would be in Britain, for example, the core of the next administration. For the new national party control comes out of the states.

Training for Presidents

That is where political power is generated, and that is where most presidents, and in modern times our most successful presidents, are tried out and trained. It is from the governors, rather than from men who have worked their way up through congress, that a good president is most likely to come. For legislative experience does not usually fit a man to be a chief executive. The effective presidents in this century, Theodore Roosevelt, Woodrow Wilson, Coolidge and Franklin D. Roosevelt, had been governors of states. Taft, Harding, Hoover and Truman had not been.

If, as is most probable, there is to be a Republican administration elected in 1948, the candidate will be selected by conflict and compromise among the Republican parties in the states. Therefore, the national Republican party of 1948 is not yet visible. It will be formed in the contest, which has still to be fought out, among the local organizations and factions dominated now by Gov. Dewey, by senators like Taft, Bricker, and Vandenberg, by Gov. Warren, Senator Morse, Mr. Stassen and Col. McCormick.

Yet the election on Tuesday was decisive enough to make Gov. Dewey far and away the leading contender. His problem is to keep his head by composing the difference with his Republican rivals in such a way as to fit himself for national leadership.

No man can do this who does not rise above factionalism, who does not realize that this country cannot be governed by one wing of a party. Mr. Hoover on election night announced that the election "defines that the Republican party is the party of the right." Mr. Hoover could not have offered the party worse advice. If the Republican party is to govern the country it must of necessity represent a broad compromise of views: it must be a party of the center or it will disrupt the country and divide itself.

What Is Needed

It must be what all American parties have to be if they are to administer successfully a country which is so big, so heterogeneous, and so varied in its interests—a working combination of many factions, groups, and regional interests.

Nothing could be more unAmerican politically than the notion that either of the great parties is the vehicle of a particular ideology. It is the very essence of our party system—and the most valuable thing about it—that in order to govern a party must compose and adjust within itself the sharp differences which divide men. It is not too much to say that the stability and survival of our institutions depend upon the ability of the party system to moderate and neutralize the fierce conflicts of factions.

When a party tends to become ideologically simple, it is a mere faction and can never command the support of the nation. Thus the decay of the Democratic party set in when it split into its southern and its northern urban factions, and was no longer a working combination. Then it was unable to govern. If the Republicans were to follow Mr. Hoover's advice, they would begin where the Democrats have ended.

The discovery of the point at which the factions that make up a party can coalesce, and the views which divide it can be reconciled or transcended: That is the inwardness of party leadership. It is now the business of the responsible Republicans to search for and find this point at which national leadership can begin.

It will not be easy. As they go about it they might say to themselves what Washington said when he had been elected: "My movements to the chair of government will be accompanied by feelings not unlike those of a culprit who is going to his place of execution."

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

President Truman Back at Grandview

BACK home in my Missouri town—
How swell it seems to be.
Where I seek naught from any man
And none seeks much from me;
Where life along the simple paths
Somehow proceeds to run
And nothing seems worth all the fuss
It does in Washington!

II

How good to be among the scenes
Where tranquil years were spent!
(Reminding me of Washington—
They are so different!)
How comforting the old-time spell,
The home town's placid touch,
Where somehow people get along
And do not fret too much!

III

How good to walk a quiet street,
Where people take their time—
Where chaos isn't in the air
And patience ain't a crime!
Where tumults and the shoutings die
And haste is not the style,
And "We demand" takes second place
To "Let us think awhile"!

IV

How swell to know a corner store
Where men can meditate
Without a charge that one's a flop
And lacks the virtues great!
Where squawks of "Everything is wrong
Are not heard day and night.
And people think with patience all
May yet come out all right!

V

Where people haven't lost all hope
Because of minor clogs,
And only chronic kickers moan,
"We're going to the dogs!"
Where folks don't yell for miracles
Whenever they get lost,
And ask no brand-new system if
There is a sudden frost.

VI

Where all haywire's recognized
As something put on hay,
And not as something kept on tap
To speed a better day;
Where people know it's bound to rain
And snow a little, too,
And do not raise a ruckus if
The sun's late breaking through!

VII

Oh, how I'd like to stay out here
And have the White House where
A man can function normally
With no folks in his hair!
Missouri knows the patient way
To size up any chore,
With "If'll clear, I rather think—
IT ALWAYS DID BEFORE!"

POST ELECTION EPITAPH

Here they lie in pieces small
With battered backs against the wall,
This was the verdict to remember—
No Meat! No Soap! No Dice! November!

Suggestions for a new name for "Happy Birthday," Helen Hayes's new drinking concoction: "Harriet Beecher Stew."

"Park Avenue" is, in this department's unimportant opinion, George S. Kaufman in a slight slump. But V. C. one of the funniest bits in years is the one where the society divorce lawyer brings over ten yards of blueprints to trace the various husbands, wives and progeny in a divorce-swept family. When the oft divorced wife mentions a certain husband the counsel seems unable to find him on the blueprints. Finally he digs into the briefcase with a "This one must be on the extension."

The saloon influence in the theater is dominant this season. "The Iceman Cometh" takes place in a water-front dive, and now "Happy Birthday" is staged in a Newark barroom. It is getting so that a man can explain his trembling hands and circles under the eyes with an "I went to a play last night."

The Big Four has blown sky high all doubts that it has real prestige, power and authority. It has succeeded in getting rooms at a New York hotel.

Messrs. Molotov, Bevin, Byrnes and De Marville will convene at the Waldorf-Astoria, hang up in the tower, where on a clear day they can see their original objectives.

A Dog's Life

By TRUMAN TWILL

Man's best friend—smile when you say it—has licked the eating problem.

Or to state the proposition correctly, man—the best friend a dog ever had—has figured out how to feed a dog.

The thing is done with sacks and cans. There's nothing startling about the cans—not for the purpose of this comment. Men have been eating out of cans for years.

There are cases on record of men who have been fed out of cans continuously for as long as 30 years and stayed alive. Their children have never seen food in any other form. It will be only a few more years until a whole generation of Americans will have passed from the cradle to the grave without having seen any fresh food. Everything will be canned, frozen or dried.

The triumph in dog feeding is dried food in a sack. It is now practical to meet the requirements of any ordinary canine, from weaning to euthanasia, with dehydrated material resembling sawdust, which it may be for all a man can tell about it by looking.

But there on the sack is a description that makes the salivary glands ooze and trickle. The only trouble being that Rover can't see for himself how well off he is to be eating meat, vegetables, vitamins, minerals, dairy products, hors d'oeuvres, dessert and a chaser at one gulp.

If Rover knew, he'd need no coaxing. He needs no coaxing now, unless it has been his misfortune to spend his earlier years eating the old-fashioned way, with hand-cooked food to mislead him. Only in that event does it occur to the mutt to make individious comparisons.

But if he never had anything else to spoil his tastes, he gulps down his dehydrated helpings after they have been moistened, and thrives on them. That's the point—he thrives on them. The stuff may not be tasty, but what a dog doesn't know doesn't hurt him.

There's an idea that will go far in a world full of women bright enough to figure out that if Rover can be fed out of a sack because he doesn't know any better it's only a few cutting remarks and a bold decision until men can be taught the same trick. The American home of the future won't need a can opener. All the livestock will eat out of the same sack, and that means you, Mack. On Sunday you'll put sugar on one bite, to mark the beginning of a new week.

It's a shame to spoil anyone's fun, but there are a lot of men in this country who will rue the day they ever let dehydrated dog food come under their roof. The only question now is time. How long will it be until the little helpmeet leaves a note on the shelf that reads like this:

"Your dinner is in the sack in the cupboard. Rover will show you. Pour out a handful and add water. You can eat out of the same dish and there will be that much less to wash.

"You sap,
"Helen."

Two New Red Stars Are Rising In Soviet Sky

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Every time Stalin varies his routine, as he did yesterday by letting Andre Zhdanov occupy the rostrum usually reserved for the premier on the eve of the anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution, it stirs speculation abroad.

You can hear rumors that he is dead, that he is returing and that his substitute has been chosen as his successor, that he is enroute to the United States to confer with Truman, or that his 180-or-90-odd million non-party subjects are in revolt.

A little later you are likely to hear that he was home wielding a sulfa spray on a sore throat like an ordinary human.

2 Stars in Red Heaven

But the appearance of Zhdanov yesterday, talking like most any Moscow radio commentator who is on a "mad" against capitalism, serves to remind that there are two stars in the Soviet sky which seem to be traveling converging orbits around the master's chair

Zhdanov has been considered for six years as a fair-haired boy and, because of his position as well as his flesh, has been referred to as the "Goering of the Soviet"—the No. 2 man. Starting at 16 after war service in the Czar's army, Zhdanov has been climbing steadily among the Communists until now, at 50, he is a member of the powerful politbureau, secretary of the central executive committee of the party, chairman of the foreign affairs commission where for years he has played a major role in mapping foreign policy, and head of the propaganda bureau He is a national hero as the "Defender of Leningrad," and the 1939-40 war against Finland to secure the strategic position which later kept the Germans out of northeast Russia was peculiarly "his" war in planning and organization. He is known as a determined nationalist, looking at every problem strictly from the standpoint of what is to Russia's interest In this respect his description is almost a carbon copy of Stalin's.

Other Star Younger

The other star among the Generalissimo's younger satellites is Georgi Maximilianovich Malenkov, 45, who has just been shifted from the legislative to the executive branch of the government—from the presidium of the supreme Soviet to be vice chairman of the council of ministers He, too, served in the Red army after World War I, held increasingly important party organizing jobs, was for some years Stalin's personal secretary, a member of the party's central executive committee and a member of the state committee for defense during the recent war, gaining the order of Lenin for his work on plane production and being elevated to the politbureau. He is credited with being more actively revolutionary than Zhdanov, the type which would be likely to take a greater interest in a revived Comintern Careful observers have described Malenkov as "one of the most dangerous men in Russia" from the standpoint of those who wish to see the Soviet curb its expansionist tendencies

The inner workings of Soviet politics are not for the foreign observer to know. Master politicians like masters in other fields have been known to play their young hopefuls off against each other for their own purposes and then leave them all at the post in the final heat But if, on that day when it is no longer merely a sore throat for the master, if Zhdanov clashes with the horizon-eyeing Malenkov for the scepter, the fur's going to fly in Russia.

Art Week Awards Made To Winning Window Exhibits

RIBBONS were placed on the winning exhibits in the displays in the windows of the business district yesterday afternoon for observance of National Art week, following completion of the judging. A great deal of interest has been shown in the displays, both in the number of exhibits and by persons viewing the many paintings, art collections, needlework and other crafts throughout the week, and the sponsors, the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs, have found this interest so extensive to plan for a similar event next year.

The project is endorsed by the General Federation of Women's Clubs and Ohio was one of the first states to enter into the plan. Mrs. Walter E. Hane, art chairman of the federation, was in charge of the exhibits and she was assisted by Miss Edith Keeler, art instructor in the city schools and Miss Mabel Wheatley, state chairman of art. The general committee was made up of 11 art chairmen of clubs in the federation.

In Three Classes.

Awards were based upon three distinct classes as follows: Class A, fine arts, including paintings, sculpture and ceramics; Class B, secondary arts, achievements in textiles, weaving and needlework and Class C, school exhibits. Judges were Miss Carrie Linsley of Chicago, educator and former art instructor here, Mrs. George Resch of Bucks county, Pa., where there are located large colonies of artists from all over the United States, and N. DeWitt Parker, art director of the Howard Swink Advertising agency, Marion. Their decisions were based upon the artistic merit of the articles exhibited, arrangement of the display, percentage of club members cooperating in securing articles exhibited and the greatest number of articles sold. The judges commented favorably on the displays and particularly on the effort shown.

List of Awards.

The following awards were made:

Class A: Marion Art club, Mrs. J. R. Chapman, chairman, first; Council of Jewish Women, Mrs. Joseph Hellerstein, second; Woodlawn Century club, Mrs. Ray Gatewood, chairman, third. Prospect Takes Part.

Participating for the first time this year, and adding immeasurably to the growing interest in the observance, was the display of art in the business section of Prospect where merchants alternated space for the exhibits. The exhibits were sponsored by the All Arts and the Searchlight Literary clubs of Prospect and were arranged by Mrs. Harold Osborn of the All Arts and Mrs. Paul Keller and Mrs. Fred Geiser of the Searchlight club.

"Life With Father" Draws Near Capacity Audience At Palace

By EDNA S. DUTTON

A Marion audience which practically filled the theater saw its first postwar road show when the comedy, "Life With Father," was presented at the Palace Wednesday night. That the audience was in the mood for a stage show was proved by the early arrival of the patrons who had purchased tickets in advance and the queues lined up at the box-office long before curtain time. And the applause which greeted the performers was evidence that their efforts were not lost.

From the opening scene of breakfast for the Day family, which could easily have been any American family, to the final bows taken by "Father" and "Mother" Day, the boys, Cousin Cora and Mary Skinner and the many maids, the audience seemed to thoroughly enjoy the laugh-packed comedy.

"We hope to bring other good road productions to Marion," Manager George E Planck said following last night's show.

Vinnie as played by Alice Thomson was as melting and appealing a character as could be desired and Brandon Peters in the heavy and trying role of 'father,' in addition to providing laughs throughout, kept the audience on the anxious seat as to what would provide the next outburst. The supporting cast did a full measure of justice to the show and the four red-headed Day boys, from stagewise and polished Tom Hughes Sand as Clarence Jr. to the smallest, had the situation well in hand at all times.

The setting in the Day home was about as lavish as one could wish and no detail was overlooked to give the room an air of the well-to-do New York family before the turn of the century. The wallpaper design was taken from one of the 1880's and not to be overlooked were the enlarged pictures of the family ancestors.

Travel In Large Bus

Traveling by bus and trailer, the company arrived here from Warren yesterday and tonight will give a performance at Huntington, Ind. The 32-passenger bus provides comfort for all. Removal of 12 seats allows space of a small lounge occupied by the principals, Alice Thomson and Brandon Peters, who need a place to relax after their hours of straight dialogue as "Father" and "Vinnie." All the cast of 16 and three stage-hands travel in the bus and 28-foot trailer which moves all the scenery, lights, equipment and even brooms and a miniature kitchenette in which food is prepared for the several dining scenes of the play.

The average jump is only about 100 miles and the cast and stagehands sleep in hotels each night. Booked weeks ahead, by next June the company will have played more than 240 performances, many with three matinees, and six nights in one week. Stage hands set up the scenery in about four hours and can strike and load it in one hour flat.

Eventually the producers hope to put three shows on the road at once, all playing a different Broadway success. All in all the indications are that Marion and other cities where the legitimate stage has been dark for many seasons have more of this entertainment to look forward to.

TRUMAN

bran Senator Vandenberg of Michigan and former Republican Senator Warren Austin, now United States representative to the United Nations.

Men who talked privately with the President said that while he was visibly disappointed over the Democratic setback and the defeat of some of his warmest personal allies, he was far from "down-hearted."

Report on Attitude

They reported that:

1 Mr Truman has no thought of 'political reprisals' against those who helped upset his party's control in the legislative branch of the government.

2 He is confident that Republican control of congress beginning next January will enable him to place direct responsibility upon that party for future rejection of administrative proposals.

One man emerging from a private conference quoted Mr. Truman as saying he was "going to do from day to day what I think best for the welfare of the country."

"He won't have to pull any punches in taking issue with congress from now on,' an associate commented. "He'll be in a position to act when he finds it necessary to veto reactionary measures."

Mr. Truman himself maintained silence on the verdict, apparently waiting until he has made a thorough survey of party devastation.

He told reporters upon his return from Missouri yesterday that he would hold a news conference within a day or two. Now, however, he is expected to delay such a conference until next week.

PEACE CALLED HURT BY U. S. LABOR TILTS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 7—Eugene Meyer, president of the world bank, declared today that strikes in this country were threatening the world with economic starvation and thereby endangering the peace.

Meyer called present American labor relations "disastrous" he headed the federal reserve board and the reconstruction finance corporation under Republican administrations and resigned as publisher of the Washington Post last June to accept the bank's presidency.

Citing mining and factory production losses from strikes this year and stressing the potential effects of "a fresh stoppage of work threatened in the coal mines," Meyer asserted in a speech prepared for the annual meeting of the Academy of Political Science:

"I say emphatically that the crucial importance of continuous full production for our own welfare and for that of mankind the world over cannot be exaggerated.

"We Americans who but recently showed our sympathy for the people of the world by sharing the products of our fields must now become aware that this economic starvation threatens the winning of the peace * * *.

"If we had not had many of these unnecessary stoppages of production, we could have helped the rest of the world by self-rationing for export of part of our industrial production and at the same time have had more of everything here at home."

ELECTION

thought into words with the observation that when the "people begin to feel the effects of their action we shall again be called upon."

On the other hand, the majority of Democratic members in the new congress lean to the conservative, rather than the opposite side. Many of the most prominent supporters of the Roosevelt policies, such as Senators Guffey (D-Pa), Tunnell (D-Del), Mead (D-NY) and Mitchell (D-Wash), went down to defeat in Tuesday's avalanche of ballots.

In the house, among the Democrats who were returned by southern and northern states are many who joined with the Republicans in the 79th congress in opposing Truman measures they regarded as too radical in their nature.

Would Like Compromise

These returning members say they would like to see Mr. Truman make at least minor compromises in an attempt to get legislation through the next congress. Their views are such that Mr Truman probably would never be quite certain of mustering the one-third vote necessary in either house to sustain a series of vetoes.

There was plenty of evidence of dissatisfaction within the party on the score of Mr. Truman's leadership.

At Memphis, Ed H Crump, who heads the Shelby county Democratic organization, asserted it would be "foolish for President Truman to offer himself for re-election." He added it would be "even more foolish" for the President to retain Democratic National Chairman Robert E Hannegan as his official spokesman.

"Protest Against Betrayal"

From Harry Bridges, head of the CIO Longshoremen's Union who was a strong supporter of President Roosevelt, came the assertion that the Republican victory was "a cry of protest against Truman and his complete betrayal of the Roosevelt program and promises."

Vandenberg, in line to become the senate's new presiding officer and chairman of its foreign relations committee interpreted the G.O.P. victory as "unmistakable endorsement of the united, bi-partisan foreign policy through which we are striving for national security and for world peace, with justice on the basis of sound American ideals."

Immediate reaction abroad to the election results appeared to be a belief that the Republicans' return to power means a sharpening of differences between Russia and the United States. Henry A Wallace, former secretary of commerce, accused Vandenberg during the campaign of having "needled" Secretary of State Byrnes into a sterner policy against Russia. Vandenberg has been serving as a Byrnes adviser.

contest until 1950, but like Bricker is considered a top prospect for the Republican Presidential nomination in 1948.

Rep Clarence J Brown of Blanchester, chairman of the Republican national campaign committee who easily beat Carl Ehl of Springfield for reelection to the Seventh district congressional seat, called the result of the national elections "the beginning of the end of an era." He expressed hope that President Truman would accept the result as "a mandate from the people."

Another Republican, Kingsley A Taft of Shaker Heights, who won the 19-day unexpired U. S. senate term ending Jan. 3, announced that he was leaving immediately for Washington in expectation that President Truman would call a special session of congress.

Vote Exceeds Predictions

The total Ohio vote was expected to reach 2,300,000, exceeding a prediction of 2,215,000 by the secretary of state, but well below the 2,412,871 record set in 1938 for a comparable non-presidential election contest. About 3,500,000 Ohioans were eligible to ballot.

The full scope of the Republican victory in Ohio became apparent in the final unofficial figures which left the Democrats only six hand-holds on the state's affairs. One of these—the office of state auditor—is a four-year term and was not at stake.

The others were a state supreme court judgeship, with incumbent Charles B. Zimmerman withstanding the challenge of Clinton DeWitt Boyd, Middletown Republican, 988,848 to 677,399, and four congressional seats retained by Michael Kirwan of Youngstown in the 19th district, Walter B Huber of Akron in the 14th, Michael Feighan of Cleveland in the 20th and Robert Crosser of Cleveland in the 21st.

Recount Considered

Michael V. Disalle, beaten by Republican incumbent Homer A Ramey in the Ninth, by 502 votes was considering asking a recount.

Two Democrats were unseated—Edward J. Gardner of Hamilton by Raymond H Burke in the Third district and William Thom of Canton by Henderson Carson in the 16th.

The final count showed Herbert's total to be 1,164,900 to Lausche's 1,126,710, in the governorship race.

In other state offices Paul M Herbert, who stepped aside in the Republican primary to prevent a battle of Herberts for the nomination for governor, defeated George D Nye of Waverly, 1,203,778 to 969,977, for lieutenant governor. The Herberts are not related.

Hummel Stays In

Edward J. Hummel of Cincinnati kept his post as secretary of state by beating Charles F Sweeney, 1,253,367 to 905,566. Sweeney, a former member of the state liquor board was a target for criticism by Governor Lausche when he announced his candidacy without resigning immediately.

Don H Ebright gathered 1,305,027 votes to James T Welsh's 846,995 to continue as state treasurer, and Hugh S Jenkins was reelected attorney general over Timothy S. Hogan, 1,270,054 to 866,359.

Judge Zimmerman's victory for the Jan 1 supreme court term was balanced by Republican Charles S. Bell, who defeated Herbert S. Duffy for the Jan 2 term, 927,799 to 726,168 on almost complete returns.

As expected, the Republicans strengthened their hold on the Ohio legislature, winning a dozen more seats in the senate for a total of 32 of the 36 seats, and at least nine more representatives. They held a 107 to 18 margin in the house in the last session.

RULES NO AUTHORITY FOR CRIME CRUSADE

By The Associated Press

STEUBENVILLE O, Nov 7—City Solicitor William J. Weirman today asserted city council did not have authority under existing local ordinances to permit 12 Protestant pastors to form a "sledgehammer vice patrol" to serve independent of police officials.

A special session of council scheduled tonight will be constrained by ordinances to reject the pastors' appeal for the right to carry sledgehammers to "smash the city's vice centers" and to select 20 gun-packing World War II vets as part of a "special vice squad to clean out the underworld," Weinman said.

In a letter to council the ministers demanded the right to serve as special patrolmen to serve under two common pleas judges, and asserted "We would be unwilling to serve under any of the officials who are at present the so-called enforcement officials of our city."

Meanwhile, Dr Norman E Nygaard, one of the signers of the pastors' appeal said the Steubenville Ministerial association would call a "mass meeting of citizens' Sunday and would circulate petitions to be signed by supporters of their "sledgehammer and pistol" patrol.

Plans for formation of a "city-wide Citizens League to throw the wholehearted support of our law-abiding residents behind the pastors' movement' also were announced today by Calvin Cook, a member of Dr. Nygaard's Presbyterian church.

Members of the local Kiwanis and Lions clubs already have pledged themselves to join such a Citizens League, which will have a membership goal of several thousand "crime-busters," Cook said.

Tito Reported Ready To Drop Trieste Claim

By The Associated Press

ROME, Nov 7—The Italian Communist leader, Palmiro Togliatti, was quoted by the Communist newspaper Unita today as asserting that Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia had told him he was willing to leave Trieste to Italy if he could secure inland Gorizia, 30 miles to the north.

An associate said Premier Alcide De Gasperi characterized the proposal as a barter of one Italian city for another Italian city, and noted that the Paris peace conference had left Gorizia to Italy and had not given Trieste to Yugoslavia, despite insistence of that country and Russia.

Trieste is the ninth largest Italian city with 248,379 residents. Gorizia had 46,640.

G.O.P. Hold 125 Seats In Next Ohio Assembly

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 7—Carl Guess, clerk of the Ohio house of representatives, said today that reports indicated Republicans were elected to 125 of the 139 seats in the new house.

The Republicans had 89 representatives in the 136-member house elected for 1945-46.

Cuyahoga county Democrats who sent a solid 18-member delegation to the house in 1945-46, found thier representation cut to two when Republicans were elected to 16 of the seats.

In the senate 32 of the 36 members in the 1947-48 session will be Republicans, four Democrats. Twenty of the senators elected to the 1945-46 senate were Republican.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 7 — The abbreviated style of four-page London newspapers during the war has nothing on the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, which told a news story today in one word "Nothing."

The city's eight major hotels have been closed 38 days by a strike of 2,000 service employes seeking wage increases.

Molotov Truman's Only Visitor Today

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—President Truman, suffering from a head cold, cancelled all appointments today except an afternoon meeting with Russian Foreign Minister Molotov.

The Chief Executive, who picked up the head cold on his trip to Missouri to vote, stayed in the presidential part of the White House.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told newsmen that Brig. Gen. Wallace Graham, the President's physician, advised Mr Truman "to stay over to the house today." Ross said that the cold "is nothing serious."

Mr. Truman will go to his office to greet Molotov. The Russian diplomat's visit was described as a "courtesy call."

Molotov, who has been attending the foreign ministers council meeting in New York, will be accompanied to the Executive Mansion by Under Secretary of State Dean Acheson and Russian Ambassador Nikolai V. Novikov.

The foreign ministers meeting is in recess today and Molotov arranged to come to Washington to join in an embassy observance of the anniversary of the Russian revolution.

His party was listed as the President's only visitors for the day.

"Enactment of labor legislation that will insure equal responsibility for both labor and management is essential to a maximum volume of employment and production," he said.

By The Associated Press

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 7—A dejected motorist, appearing before Municipal Judge John B. Seabrook, glumly admitted that he disregarded a traffic signal. The judge, a Republican and visibly in a cheery mood, asked what he thought of the election.

The motorist was brief: "I'm a Democrat."

"I guess you got enough of a beating Tuesday," declared the judge. "Sentence suspended."

Who Gets Off Easiest— Men or Women?

Maybe you saw that poll on who has the easiest life—men or women? Of course, the men voted that the women did, and the women vice versa.

It would be the same in our town—take any family. Thad Phibbs envies his Missus spending the day at home, with no hot office to attend to. And Sue envies Thad his luncheons with the boys; and his evening glass of beer with friends (while she cleans up the dishes in the kitchen).

Of course, none of it goes very deep. Thad knows way deep down that the Missus has plenty of work running a house; and Sue knows Thad's friendly glass of beer is well-deserved relaxation after a long hard day's work.

From where I sit, most husbands and wives may grumble now and then—but they know in their hearts it's a case of live and let live, give and take, that comes out pretty even in the end.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q Does a discharge "under conditions other than dishonorable" mean any kind of discharge except a dishonorable discharge"

A Yes. An honorable discharge or discharge under honorable conditions qualifies a veteran for benefits under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (GI Bill), a dishonorable discharge disqualifies him, but a discharge that is neither honorable or dishonorable may qualify or disqualify him, depending upon the determination of the "conditions" under which he receives it. Veterans Administration determines all such cases.

Q What is the National Service Life Insurance fund"

A National Service Life Insurance is mutual insurance. All premiums paid on this insurance and all interest earned thereon are deposited and covered into a separate trust fund in the United States Treasury designated as the NSLI fund. The government derives no profit from its administration and acts in the capacity of trustee of the fund for the sole benefit of the policy holders and their beneficiaries.

Q I sold my home on which I had a GI loan with a VA guarantee of $1,500 Can I get another guaranteed loan to purchase a larger home for myself"

A Yes but since you've used up $1,500 of your $4,000 guarantee entitlement, your entitlement on any future real estate loan cannot exceed $2,500.

Q I understand that if a veteran is totally desabled for a period of six months or longer his NSLI premium can be waived Does the new legislation affect this waiver right?

A No In addition to retaining the right of premium waiver for permanent and total disability, the Insurance Act of 1946 has added an additional benefit of disability income at the rate of $5 00 per month per $1,000 of insurance The new benefit is contained in an extra rider which may be added to policies now in force upon application, payment of a small extra premium and proof of good health.

Q How are payments made to self-employed veterans?

A Payments to self-employed veterans are made by the calendar month and after the end of the calendar month for which a claim is filed.

Q Once I have converted my term insurance can I change it again" For instance, from Ordinary Life to 20-Payment Life"

A Yes Provisions have been made for changing from one plan of permanent insurance to another plan of permanent insurance However, to change from higher premium plan to a lower premium plan, (i e 20-Payment Life to Ordinary Life) evidence of good health must be furnished and application must be made within 5 years from the original effective date.

Q. I want to buy a piece of property on a GI loan. Why is it necessary to have the property appraised"

A. The law requires that the purchase price paid or to be paid for property, or the cost of construction, alterations and improvements, must not be more than the reasonable value thereof as determined by an appraiser designated by the Veterans Administration.

SENTENCED TO LIFE IMPRISONMENT. Dep. Sheriff Ken Hopper leads Billy Anderson, 16, (nearest camera), and Nathan James, 15 (center) to a jail cell after they were sentenced to life imprisonment in San Quentin by Superior Judge Arthur Coats in Yuba City, Calif., for the slaying of Anderson's parents.

House Built on Lot Owned by Another

By The Associated Press

BUFFALO, N. Y.—A brand new house has been standing vacant at 48 Suffolk street, Buffalo, because of a slip in title to the land. The builder thought the land was his, but it wasn't.

August Geib and his son Edwin bought the land from the city. Later with only interior plastering remaining to be done, the Geibs were informed that the city made a mistake. Three weeks before the Geibs bought the land it had been sold to Edward Eberle.

The courts will have to rule on the mixup.

"Super-Gluper" and Its Makers

By The Associated Press

BUFFALO, N. Y.—A former aircraft designer and a mechanic have pooled their talents to develop a new $500 three-passenger automobile, the "Super-Gluper."

They are Francis J. Roggan, former Bell Aircraft designer and recently an instructor at the naval air station at Yukon, Fla., and Ben Skoney, who served with the 102nd infantry division in France, Belgium and Germany.

The 590-pound Super-Gluper has a one-cylinder motor mounted in the rear. Space under the front hood provides a baggage compartment. The car is 101 inches long, 44 wide and 54 high.

Plans for the first Super-Gluper began when Roggan designed the midget car two years ago and made two small models. He and Skoney recently assembled the vehicle and drove to Kane, Pa., on a trial run averaging, they claim, 72 miles per gallon of gasoline.

They plan to start production in Jacksonville, Fla., soon.

Buys 1922 Car That Looks Nearly Like New

By The Associated Press

PUEBLO, Colo.—The speedometer showed only 4,498 miles and the motor purred like a kitten, so Robert Disbrow figured he got a good buy when he paid $125 for the automobile.

Not only that, but the side-curtains never had been unwrapped for the bright and shiny 1922 Oakland touring car Disbrow brought from H. L. Guire.

Guire purchased the automobile 24 years ago, drove it only a few months and then put it under canvas in a garage. Disbrow heard about the car a few months ago and, after much persuasion, closed the deal.

FIRST AID TO AILING HOUSE

—By ROGER C. WHITMAN—

Sticky Paint

Q.: We mixed our own paint and painted the kitchen and bathroom ourselves. Now we find the walls sticky and remembered too late that we forgot to add a drying agent. In time, will this stickiness gradually disappear? When we wash these walls next year, will the paint come off too?

A.: The stickiness was evidently due to an excess of oil in the mixture or the use of improper oil. Sticky paint sometimes can be hardened by wiping with turpentine and if this fails, try washing with cold water. The next time you do any painting use a standard brand of prepared paint or enamel. Leave the mixing of paints to experienced painters. If the treatment hardens the paint and good quality ingredients were used, you should be able to wash the surfaces next year.

Finish for Woodwork

Q.: We have birch doors in our kitchen and wish to give them, as well as the cupboards, a good finish. Would you suggest shellac and wax? We don't want to varnish the doors, nor do we want enamel on the cupboards. Some people advise a clear varnish for the doors and some say shellac and wax in a kitchen would be affected by steam.

A.: Shellac usually will become discolored when exposed to excessive moisture and vapors in the kitchen. If a natural finish is desired, give the woodwork two coats of a top quality quick-drying clear varnish. When the first coat is hard and dry, dull the gloss by rubbing lightly with very fine sandpaper, dust and apply the second coat. This will be a more serviceable finish than shellac, as far as the kitchen is concerned.

• • •

Place for Storage

Q.: Our home is small and has no attic. Therefore, we would like to build a storage room in the basement for extra clothes, bedding, odd pieces of furniture, etc. What can we do to keep these things from getting musty and rusty? The house has gas heat.

A.: I doubt if it could be done without quite a bit of expense. A room large enough to hold bedding and furniture would require an absolutely dry floor, walls and ceiling and would need to be dampproof and reasonably airtight. No matter how dry an ordinary basement may seem to be, there is always the danger of dampness, which would ruin your possessions if left there for any length of time. You might possibly obtain good results with all-over insulation, plus additional heat. If you wish to spend the money on such a project, consult a reliable builder. It would be far safer to build an addition on the house, above the ground. The walls would have to be finished inside and out and the floor would have to be off the ground. The underside of the floor would require a coating of liquid asphalt.

Boyle Gives "Real Lowdown" On Foreign Girls

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 7—The question most often asked a traveler returned from a world tour is:

"What are those foreign gals like—really?"

People aren't greatly interested in what the folks on the other side think of the atom bomb or what you learned about Indian riots or who is going what to whom in the Palestine imbroglio.

Hal Boyle

Nay, beans to the serious side. They have read all that.

What they all want to know is the "real inside stuff" on romance around the globe.

"What do those overseas creatures have—if anything—that we don't have?" sniff the wives.

"What are we missing?" the hen-pecked husbands ask when their wives go into the kitchen to stew up another martini.

Well, have been a happy marital prisoner for nine years—too long in harness to kick against the traces. So, please understand that the summary which follows is based purely on conversations with American bachelors in some 50 countries around the world. They tell me that:

English girls are most ardent in the chase. They court you with kindness—"your slippers, milord"—but once they haul you to the altar they think the honeymoon is over. They tend to let their hair grow scraggly and their dress to collect wrinkles on the theory: "I've got you, chum—now I'll relax."

French mademoiselles are tremulous and tender before the noose tightens. Then—say their critics—they often become petty household tyrants. But they will salt away your francs against a drizzly day.

No spendthrifts either are Dutch girls, but generally they are homely as homespun. Great girls to take back to the farm though, if you are hit by the help shortage.

Tradition to the contrary, Scandinavian girls go in for more torrid romancing—maybe Garbo "vants to be alone" but not the rest of them—than Italian and other Mediterranean lassies. Fair warning: The nights are months long.

Candy Dandy in Germany

In Germany you can still be a ladies' man with a pocketful of candy bars, but if you show up late for a date the fraulein is likely to complain about the four-power occupation.

In the Arab states the femmes are dressed like the woman's auxiliary of the Ku Klux Klan, and their papas carry daggers. Anyway, going out with a veiled lady is like buying a package without a label.

Egypt? Well, the Turks made it a fat lady's paradise.

India? Here, too, beware of old-fashioned girls with old-fashioned fathers who don't like an English accent around the house. The modern girls are mostly vegetarian and talk nothing but politics.

Aussie Girls Rate Tops

Australia—Tops down under! Gay and pretty, the Aussie lassies are the ones most likely to make you forget the unforgettable girl you left behind.

The Chinese girls make the best cooks, but they giggle at the oddest times.

Japanese woman are the world's perfect wives from the viewpoint of service. You won't need a maid because they'll do all the work and save the price of a baby buggy by packing junior around on the back of her kimono. But Madame Butterfly is bow-legged and apparently built to go under low bridges. And could you love a woman who served you raw fish for dinner?

Balinese Near Ideal

The nearest to an ideal helpmate is the Balinese beauty. She wears only a half-size sarong stretching from her hips to her ankles—low upkeep! Small laundry bills!—and she will carry her groceries home on her head. If she complains, you can't, understand her language.

She will keep chickens, live in a straw hut, and never ask you for a facial, a motor car or a new hat. She is too small ever to beat you up, and at the wedding you can collect enough thrown rice to keep her in calories for a year.

Brother, if some American girl is giving you trouble, take off at once for beautiful Bali, and wed one of these wonderful women. Grow your own rice and wed two or three.

DEMAND ACTION ON BUCYRUS STOCK PENS

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Nov. 7—Declaring that they wanted "actions, not sympathetic words," four women residents of Woodlawn avenue appeared before city council Tuesday night and demanded that steps be taken to remove the New York Central railroad stock pens, the source of growing complaints from residents in the vicinity.

The delegates demanded that action be taken to enforce an ordinance passed last summer making stock pens within the city illegal and also to enforce a removal order issued by the board of health last August.

The spokesman of the group questioned the value of a legislative body which "passes ordinances that no one enforces," and threatened to carry the matter directly to the state health board unless immediate action to remove the pens is forthcoming.

Solicitor Paul Kennedy asked that the delegates allow a few more days during which an attempt will be made to determine if polution of wells in the vicinity can be definitely traced to the pens. "If an investigation shows well polution resulting from the nearby pens it will give us our first real evidence that the pens are a menace to health," he explained.

Seniors at Marseilles To Present Play Friday

Friday night the senior class of Marseilles will present a three act comedy play entitled, "Peekaboo Penny." The play will take place in the high school auditorium starting at 8 p. m.

The cast includes Robert Young, Wendell Snavely, Jean Arnold, Lester Leeth, Charlotte Miller, Richard Clum, Rosalie Needles, Robert Bower and Joyce Chandler.

Sheep Men Invited To Event at Ashley

A special invitation to all sheep men in Delaware, Morrow and Marion counties is being issued by the directors of the Sheep Improvement association to attend an "open house" at the Ashley stock yards next Thursday, Nov. 14.

A demonstration of lamb grading will be given at 1:30 in the afternoon to acquaint farmers with the requirements for the different grades of lambs.

Sheep extension specialists of Ohio State university will be present to discuss the factors affecting the grades of lambs and other sheep management practices.

The lamb pool is operated by the Delaware-Morrow-Marion County Sheep Improvement association with Jesse Foust, Cardington, president, and Harry Brandes, Ashley, secretary-treasurer.

Every sheep raiser is invited to this meeting.

Blind Patriot's Citizenship Up To Next Congress

By The Associated Press

NEWARK, N. J.—A blind former member of the French underground is waiting for the next congressional session to decide his permanent home and possible U. S. citizenship.

Paul Boulanger, who fought with the Free French forces after escaping from occupied France and was later blinded in an industrial accident at New Brunswick, N. J., would be permitted to remain and earn his coveted U. S. citizenship under a bill to be introduced in congress by Representative Fred A. Hartley Jr.

The bill had been introduced previously but could not be acted upon before congress adjourned. Immigration authorities, however, have extended Boulanger's temporary authorization to remain until congress acts.

Boulanger, now trained as a masseur, is employed at the Essex House Health club. If congress permits him to remain, he plans to open an establishment of his own where he can devote much of his time to relieve crippled people who can't afford expensive treatments.

He was brought to America after being wounded while working for the American War Shipping Administration.

"Although I am unable to see I can sense the freedom in this country—our country," he asserted.

Epworth Plans Fifth "Our House" Banquet

Plans are being made by Epworth Methodist youth groups for the fifth annual banquet celebrating the opening of "Our House," youth center at the rear of Epworth church, located at 129 South Vine street. The event will be held Tuesday night, Nov. 19, in the basement dining room of the church and a program will be presented. "Snowbound Snooze" is the theme for the program for which Mrs. Irene Moore and Richard Drollinger are co-chairmen. Posters have been placed in the church and Sunday school rooms, and smaller illustrated posters announcing the event were made to be placed in store windows.

Other committee chairmen include Patricia Zahn and Dave Brown, tickets; Charles Wiant, menu; Richard Indoe, properties; Ruth Miller, hostesses; Harold Van Gordon, publicity; and Lois Jean Murray, decorations.

Green Camp Council Gets Offer on Land

Special to The Star

GREEN CAMP — Council at its meeting Monday considered a proposal from a Green Camp merchant to purchase the land upon which the fire building is located. Other offers have been received for the building. Council talked of erecting a new building to house both the fire department and council chambers. No definite action was taken.

The town will sponsor a community Christmas party this year and Mayor H. D. Kempton will name the various committees in the near future.

A request was received for opening the south end of Walnut street so that a property owner might have easier access to his land. The matter was referred to the street and alley committee.

Hardin County Area Bans Sale of Liquor

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 7—Ohio anti-saloon forces won at least a half-dozen victories in Tuesday's balloting.

Voters outlawed intoxicants in Cedarville, Christiansburg and Mad River township in Champaign county, Marshall township in Highland, and banned liquor and wine sales in Washington township of Hardin county.

The dry victory in Washington township in Scioto county was tempered somewhat by Clay township wet triumph.

Governor-Elect Herbert Maps Tax Plan For Next Assembly

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 7—Thomas J. Herbert, white-haired Republican who will be Ohio's 56th governor, today began working out a tax program for the next general assembly, including a possible proposal to cut the three per cent retail sales tax by a third.

In a general discussion of his plans following his narrow victory over Democratic Frank J. Lausche, a fellow Clevelander, Republican Herbert cautioned, however, that a tax reduction might be impossible if the state got into the soldiers' bonus question again.

Various estimates have been given on the cost of a bonus to Ohio's war veterans, with the top estimate running to $500,000,000. Lausche has urged deferring payment until the dollar's purchasing power was nearer normal.

One-Term Governor

Herbert's victory, 1,164,900 to 1,128,710 on complete unofficial returns, made Lausche Ohio's first one-term governor since 1881, when Republican Myers Y. Cooper of Cincinnati was succeeded by Democrat George White of Marietta.

White served two terms, Democrat Martin L. Davey of Kent one, and Republican John W. Bricker, Lausche's predecessor, three.

Herbert, who is 52, said that he had "no intention of trying to be a dictator," and didn't care "to announce a precise program right now," but added:

"The state sales tax will stand a reduction of one-third in the next biennium.

"This will be a general objective of mine, but coupled with this is a reallocation of state taxes to local governments, either by taking the state out of certain taxing fields, or by earmarking certain taxes for local governments on a tax source basis."

Refers to Court Decision

Herbert, in suggesting "taking the state out of certain taxing fields," apparently was referring to a state supreme court decision last summer holding city utility taxes invalid because the state already had preempted the field. Youngstown and Columbus were forced to abandon such taxes as a result and have been casting about for replacement sources of income, although neither has followed the lead of Toledo in enacting a city income tax.

Herbert will assume the governorship with prospects considerably easier relations with various branches of government than by Lausche.

Lausche, State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson and Lieutenant Governor Nye have been the only elected Democrats in the state house during the last two years, and even they have not seen eye to eye on all matters, especially on occasions when Lausche appointed a Republican to a job normally expected to be reserved for his own party.

Lausche also has had to contend with what will be a boon to Herbert, a heavily Republican legislature. The Republicans added substantially to their majorities in both houses in Tuesday's vote.

ARMISTICE PARADE COMMITTEE MEETS

Press Plans for Countywide Observance Monday.

Members of the float committee for the parade to be held in observance of Armistice Day, Monday, met last night with the chairman, John H. Moore, to further plans for their part in the county-wide program. The committee's final report will be made at a meeting of the general committee at 7:30 Friday night at the Dugout, at which all committees, organizations and groups are expected to present their final plans.

The parade will be held in the evening and will be formed of military organizations consisting of marching and mounted units. Manufacturing and commercial units also will be placed in the float sections, the committee plans. All veterans organizations and auxiliaries, as well as fraternal, civic and other groups and individuals are asked to take part. A judges' stand will be located in front of the courthouse where the parade will be reviewed and prizes awarded to saddle mounts.

The line of march and other details will be announced later. Organizations or individuals interested in taking part in the day's program are asked to contact James E. Messenger chairman of the Armistice day committee, at 6727, or Mr. Moore, at 4170.

The traditional midday services will be held in the morning and will be broadcast over WMRN from 10:40 to 11 a. m. The women's auxiliary to Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162, American Legion, will serve luncheon in the basement of the Dugout.

Galion War Vet Buys Trailer at U. S. Sale

Joseph Perez, Galion war vet, bought a house trailer for $75 at a recent sale in McKeesport, Pa., conducted by the war assets administration, according to a news report from the war assets agency.

Eight other Ohio vets were successful in securing trailers, paying from $89 to $351. The trailers were formerly used to house tornado victims and 34 were sold during the offering, nine being passed up by the vets as being impractical for their use. The trailers were sold on a closed bid basis, the war assets administration getting a net return of $6,717.

Offers ranging from $15 to $750 were made by the 57 vets who participated.

Town Bars Wiggling in Its Public Dances

By The United Press

COMPTON, Calif. — Dancing cheek to cheek or jitterbugging is strictly against the law here.

An ordinance passed in 1926 and still on the books forbids such goings-on.

"Any dance involving the jerking or shaking of the body" is specifically barred.

Dancers were further bound by the following rigid operating procedure:

Police records showed the law either had been strictly obeyed or at least nobody's been arrested for breaking it.

CORRECTION

In the account of the wedding of Miss Leona Spence to Valjean L. Brady, both of Marion, which appeared in The Star Saturday, Nov. 2, the last name of Miss Spence was incorrectly given as Spencer, and her parents name and addres also were incorrect. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tyree B. Spence of 376 Cherry street.

TO OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

Following a dinner at 1 p. m. with their immediate family, they will hold open house to their friends from 3 p. m. through the evening. Rev. and Mrs. Doty are now serving the sixth year of pastorate of the Harpster Charge, Methodist church, which consists of churches at Harpster, Little Sandusky and Wyandot.

Hitler's Luxury Yacht To Entertain Britons

By The United Press

LONDON — Hitler's 3,600-ton luxury yacht, the Grille, presented to him as a gift of the German nation, has been purchased by entertainment magnate Henry Buxton for $304,000 and will be transformed into a pleasure ship for holiday-making Britons. Buxton bought the vessel from the British government. He said he expects to spend another $140,000 outfitting and altering the yacht. He plans to install a cinema seating 500 and fit the ship for television. A dance floor and restaurant also will be included.

The Grille was captured by royal marines at Trondheim in May, 1945.

VERDICT IS AWARDED IN DAMAGE ACTION

Jos. W. Klingel Wins $1,037 Judgment.

A Marion county jury yesterday awarded Joseph W. Klingel of Marion a verdict in the amount of $1,037.50 in his judgment suit against the Commercial Motor Freight, Inc., Marion trucking firm.

The suit followed a traffic accident Nov. 20, 1943, at Columbia and South Prospect streets in which a truck owned by the Commercial Motor Freight, Inc., collided with the automobile of the plaintiff. Klingel charged that the driver of the truck, Ivan Doniey of Dayton, had gone through a red light at the intersection when the truck collided with the Klingel car. The jury awarded the verdict in favor of the plaintiff in the amount of $600 for damages to the automobile and $437.50 for personal injuries and compensation for loss of work.

Donithen, Michel and Davis were attorneys for Klingel and George T. Geran was attorney for the trucking firm.

Clogged Drain Floods Courthouse Jury Room

A plugged drain pipe on the north side of the courthouse caused water to pour into the jury room on the third floor of the building and seep through the floor into the office of Probate Judge Oscar Gast early today.

Custodians at the courthouse noticed the water when they began cleaning the building at 6 a. m. this morning. Several gallons of water were taken out of the jury room and the floor of the probate judge's office, directly below, was covered with water, they said. Leaves were believed to have clogged the drain pipe, causing the overflow. No important legal documents were reported damaged.

INDIVIDUAL STOCKS BACK ON THEIR FEET

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 7—Individual stocks got back on their feet today although many market leaders continued to stumble.

Wednesday's reaction was extended at the start in relatively active dealings. There was a subsequent rally led by rails. Offerings again cropped up around midday and extreme advances running to 2 points or so were reduced or transformed into minus marks near the fourth hour.

In the recovery bracket were Southern Pacific, Great Northern, Southern Railway, U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, U. S. Rubber (on a pleasing extra), Goodyear, International Harvester, American Telephone, North American, Public Service of N. J. Air Reduction, Union Carbide and Philip Morris.

Backward were Bethlehem, General Motors, Sears Roebuck, Dougla Aircraft, J. I. Case, American Smelting, Westinghouse Electric, Du Pont, Johns-Manville and Schenley.

Bonds were mixed.

In the curb bids propped Cities Service, Fansteel, Middle West Corp. and Babcock and Wilcox. Slipping were American Gas and American Cyanamid.

Family Pensions Climax To Long Battle in England

By The United Press

LONDON—A campaign for family allowances that went on for 150 years has just been climaxed with first payments of an estimated $4,000,000,000 per week to 2,300,000 English families.

Ever since William Pitt first rose in the House of Commons in February, 1796, to propose family allowances, agitation for improved social legislation has been unabated. The famed Beveridge "cradle-to-grave" plan of legislation convinced the government last year to put the long-argued theory into practice.

The family allowances act states: "There shall be paid by the minister out of moneys provided by parliament for every family which includes two or more children and for the benefit of the family as a whole, an allowance in respect of each child in the family other than the eldest or eldest at the rate of five shillings a week ($1)."

Payments are made by post offices to mothers, who are the only persons permitted to file for the allowances.

Mrs. A. M. Gooch of Beddau, wife of a miner, draws the highest amount in England—$12 per week—for the 12 of her 15 children who qualify for the allowance.

Age limit for the benefit is 14, but will be raised to 15 after next April 1.

Many larger post offices have had to increase their staffs to handle allowance payments.

Objections to the plan have been numerous as they have been since Pitt's first proposal. Opponents have claimed that the great sums of money to be expended under the act could have been better employed in social benefits.

Others protested against the required forms that mothers found difficult to fill out properly. But even constructive criticism of the plans's faults gave way to approval of its merits when the plan went into operation.

The London Times said the first payday under the act "marks an important stage in the restoration of the 'disinherited family' to its necessary position in society. . . .

The Daily mirror in London said, "the allowances constitute a great milestone in social reforms." The Daily Telegraph said the scheme was not an ideal one, "but no one can dispute that the scheme as it stands, despite its weaknesses, introduces one of the most beneficent of many measures of social reform that have been enacted during the past 30 years."

Boy in Iron Lung Edits Paper for Zoologists

By The United Press

BRYN MAWR, Pa. — Many amateur naturalists are acquainted with Lon Ellis, 16-year-old editor of the monthly bulletin of the American Vertebrata Zoologists.

But what they don't know is that he has been editing the paper for a year in an iron lung at Bryn Mawr hospital, where he is being treated for polio.

Lon literally brings the world to his third-floor room. Covering the walls are pin-up girls, snakeskins, original drawings, dozens of greeting cards. And squeamish visitors sometimes shudder when they spot the glass case inhabited by live snakes.

NEW WRINKLE

UPPER DARBY, Pa. — Here's a new wrinkle in robberies. A victim reported to police that a man threw a handful of sand into her eyes while she was walking down the street, grabbed her purse and fled.

HOW U. S. DOLLAR IS SHRINKING. This chart shows what has happened to the purchasing value of the American dollar since 1940. The steady rise in living costs has lowered the buying power of the dollar year by year. Today it will buy what you could get for 68½ cents in 1940, with a further decline expected. "Stewardship of All Life" Is Theme of Epworth Service.

"The Stewardship of All Life" was the subject of Dr. John M. Versteeg, superintendent of Methodist churches of the Lima district, at the Methodist School of Religion last night. Dr. V. E. Busler, pastor, presided for the lecture hour which followed the school's seminar period.

Starting with the "minimum" definition of the term "stewardship," Dr. Versteeg on the meaning of his subject to bring to his hearers the significance of its "maximum" He declared stewardship to be "inherent in God" and defined it progressively as "an overwhelming responsibility for the Christian wellbeing of the world," "the economic result of religious experience" through "economic evangelism," and its broadcast meaning of material things included in the nature of God—"God all and in all."

Stewardship is not alone man's use of material things to aid in bringing about God's will for the world, he stressed, but it means God's use of life "to work the will of his good pleasure." It is "what God does with and for man." "Things" are "what the spiritual enables us to do with the natural" he said. He compared the huge gambling and drinking bills of the nation, three and a half times more than is spent for schools and churches in a year, and declared that if the country 'does not get a new view of property, we are doomed to oblivion." Calling stewardship "prayer made practical," he continued with the idea that nothing, business, pleasure or any other phase of life, can be a thing apart from its involvement in God, and that therefore "all" should and must be used to the purpose of glorifying God.

"Just Plain Home Girl" Admits $30,000 Holdup

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 7—A pretty, 17-year-old girl, whom her mother characterized as "just a plain home girl," walked into the district attorney's office yesterday and admitted participating in a $30,000 hold-up of a jewelry store Oct. 28.

The girl, Susan Begg, was charged with robbery. Assistant District Attorney Vincent Liebell said she told him through her attorney that after reading of the robbery and the arrest of three youths she became sick with fear and remorse.

Figuring a clear conscience was more prized than three diamond rings and a gold wristwatch she said she received for serving as a lookout outside the East 14th street jewelry store, she seemed glad to surrender, Liebell said.

R. J. Whiting To Retire as Vice President.

Resignation of R. J. Whiting as vice president in charge of manufacturing of the Hydraulic Press Mfg. Co. at Mount Gilead was announced today by H. A. Toulmin Jr., president.

"Whiting's retirement which becomes effective Dec. 31 is prompted by a sinus infection which makes a change in climate imperative" Toulmin said. "He will continue in a sales and services capacity with the company but in a territory more favorable to his health."

Whiting came to the Hydraulic Press Mfg. Co. in July, 1940, from Lukenweld, Inc., Coatesville, Pennsylvania where he was vice president in charge of Manufacturing. He was elected a vice president of H-PM early in 1946 after six years as works manager.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 7—A 17-year-old boy was questioned at county jail today in connection with the shoting of Oris Suver, 61-year-old grocer, late Monday in an attempted holdup.

Suver, shot by one of two young men, was reported to be in good condition in Mt. Carmel hospital.

Flying Milkman Aids Aerial Pickup Service

By The United Press

WATERTOWN, Wis. — Paul Hilfiker, operator of a Watertown cheese factory and flying enthusiast, is using his hobby to improve his business.

Hilfiker, a licensed private pilot, believes planes can be used to pick up milk from farms. On a recent test trip he landed a light Aeronca plane on the farms of 10 surprised farmers. During the entire trip he used only one prepared airtrip—the 1,500-foot strip next to his factory.

The job of shuttling the milk from farm to factory by air took two hours, which is longer than it takes to pick up the milk by truck. But Hilfiker is sure that in time aerial pickup service will be popular throughout the country.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES
This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

51 Begin Final Round Of Open Golf Battle

By The Associated Press

PINEHURST, N. C., Nov. 7—Fifty-one contestants, survivors of an original field of 171 and including most of golf's top professionals, teed off today in the 36-hole finals of the 45th annual North and South Open Golf Tournament with Dutch Harrison of Litle Rock, Ark., leading by a stroke.

Harrison posted a four-under par 68 yesterday for a 36-hole total of 140 on the country club's 6,879-yard number two course and a one stroke lead over veteran Mike Turnesa of White Plains, N. Y.

Henry Ransom of Illinois, who deadlocked with three others for eighth place with 145, registered a hole-in-one on the par three, 186-yard 17th hole. He hit a two iron to the green, with the ball rolling about six feet into the cup.

MILWAUKEE — Ossie "Bulldog" Harris, 162¾, Pittsburgh, outpointed Bobby Richardson, 162, Cleveland, 10.

STANLEY (BUCKY) HARRIS (CENTER) IS FLANKED by club president Larry S. MacPhail said Harris' contract was for two years. Dressen, who recently resigned from the Brooklyn Dodgers board of strategy, was named Bucky's No. 1 coach.

PHILLY LEADS HOCKEY LEAGUE IN REVERSE

By The Associated Press

Despite possessing one of the finest goal tenders in the game—Nick Damore—the Philadelphia Rockets of the American Hockey league are well on their way towards establishing a new loop record for most goals allowed in a single season.

The Rockets, who have won only one game and lost 10, have been scored on 83 times. At this rate, they will give up over 400 goals, far above the record 272 held by the now inactive Washington club.

Hershey picked on the Rockets to move into undisputed possession of the Eastern leadership last night by romping to a 7-2 victory.

The Bears scored in every period and thus broke their first place deadlock with the New Haven Ramblers who were idle.

In the Western division, the Cleveland Barons climbed to within a point of the first place Indianapolis Capitals who were not scheduled, by downing the Providence Reds, 6-3.

Pittsburgh's Hornets remained a point behind the Barons by trimming the Springfield Indians, 5-2, in the loop's other game.

Carey Gridders Clash With Upper Friday

Special to The Star

CAREY—Carey High school's Blue Devils, undefeated but tied once this year, are again striving for an undefeated season. Carey's only unbeaten season came in 1933 when the gridders won six and tied one, this being with Tiffin Calvert. Last year they won eight straight games before dropping the final to Upper Sandusky 13 to 0.

Carey meets Upper Sandusky on the Upper field Friday night. Six of the Carey first team will play their last game that night. They are, Donald Wedge, Gene Newell, Robert Donelson, Jack Wenner, Bill Dotson, and Eugene Orians. Russell LaRoch will also play his last game.

HOLDS UNBROKEN STRING

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., Nov. 7 — Eddie Miller, Dayton's ex-sailor middleweight boxer, today held an unbroken string of 19 victories as a professional. Last night Miller, 159 pounds, crossed his right to the jaw of Bennie Droll, 162, of Peoria, Ill., for a knockout in 2:08 of the fourth round. In an eight-round semi-final, Gene Gutgill of Dayton, decisioned Luther Brent of Chicago. Each weighed 157.

Robinson Collects $12,500 KO Win And Bad Jaw From Levine

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 7 — Sugar Ray Robinson, king of the welters although he doesn't wear the official crown, today had a sore hand, an aching jaw, something more than $12,500, and his 49th kayo victory in 75 professional fights.

He picked up all these items last night as he flattened Artie Levine, Brooklyn middleweight, in 2:41 of the 10th round at the arena before a crowd of 12,102 which paid Ohio's greatest indoor fistic gate of $83,171.98.

The New York Negro fighting machine won this one the hard way. He dug himself out of the resin after being floored for a nine count in the fourth stanza by a rapier- like left hook to the jaw, weathered a couple of other flurries and then battered his foe into helplessness with only 19 seconds to go.

It was Levine's first knockout defeat in 60 professional bouts and came on the heels of the same dose he had administered to five other opponents in recent appearances here. And, despite the fact Levine entered the ring a 4-1 underdog, he could, with a better break, made Robinson his sixth straight victim here.

In the torrid fourth he crossed a right to Robinson's jaw, and the New Yorker sagged into his own corner, covering up in a deep crouch. Levine flailed away with both hands without getting inside "Sugar's" guard, but as the Negro straightened up to fight his way out of the jam, Artie's left snaked over to the point of Robinson's jaw.

Ray hit the deck head first, rolled over and staggered up, still groggy, at the nine count. He jabbed and clinched his way through the rest of the heat.

In the tenth, after Robinson had taken a ninth-round beating, the end came with dramatic quickness. In the midring flurry Robinson jolted his left to Levine's midsection, and backed him against the ropes. Levine, helpless from the body blow, grabbed the top strand and refused to go down as Robinson rained rights and lefts to his head.

Levine finally sank to the lower rope, badly battered, and was counted out. Robinson, at 150, gave away 9¼ pounds to Levine.

Each fighter received $12,500, with a privilege of 27½ per cent of the net. Robinson said his left hand, subject to recurrent injuries, was hurt in an early round but that it didn't bother him much until the bandages were removed.

NATIONAL PRO CAGER OPEN 1946-47 TILTS

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 7—Bidding for a top spot in the budding era of post-war sportsdom, the National Basketball league opens its 1946-47 season tonight with a single game between the Syracuse Nationals and the Toledo Jeeps at the University of Toledo field house.

Between the first whistle blast and next March 15, the 12 teams in the professional loop will play a 267-game schedule.

BIG NINE TEAMS TUNE UP FOR COMING TILTS

Activity High as Stretch Drive Opens.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 7 — Notes from the Big Nine football camps:

Indiana — Coach Bo McMillin, worried that Abe Addams' broken finger might keep him sidelined when the Hoosiers invade Northwestern Saturday, had Mel Groomes, junior halfback, working at left end....McMillin said Groomes would operate at that post only if Indiana gets into trouble .... The squad reviewed movies of the Pittsburgh game which disclosed ragged Hoosier offensive blocking.

Northwestern — Another day's practice was spent on defensive tactics as the Wildcats aimed to work out a plan for stopping the aerials of Indian's passing ace, Ben Raimondi. Yesterday's session included several goal line scrimmages.

Iowa — The squad received a general brushing up on offense as the Hawkeyes prepared for Saturday's game with Wisconsin in the Badger homecoming .... A squad of 38 Hawkeyes will leave for Madison Friday in two chartered buses.

Wisconsin — The Badger varsity scored seven touchdowns—six of them resulting from passes—against a "B" team today and the success of the air attack marked a new phase for Coach Harry Stuhldreher's charges, who thus far have done most of their work on the ground.

Purdue — Coach Cecil Isbell said that Bob DeMoss, ailing quarterback passing star, may see limited action against Minnesota at Minneapolis Saturday ....However, Isbell continued working with John Galvin, Ken Gorgal and James Walley as quarterback replacements.

Minnesota — An all-freshman backfield occupied key positions as the Gophers worked out in preparation for Purdue. Bill Thiele was at quarterback; Billy Bye, left half; Mark Heffelfinger, right half; and Bill Elliott, fullback.

Michigan — The Wolves' practice session was spent on defense as Coach Fritz Crisler employed formations designed to stop Michigan State's speedy Horace Smith .... Smith, a former Michigan high school dash champion, is expected to start at left half Saturday in place of the injured Spartan star, Russ Reader.

Illinois — Open date Saturday.

MIAMI READY FOR MIAMI

By The Associated Press

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 7 — Miami University of Oxford, Ohio, with a squad of 46 players, rested at Miami Beach today in preparation for their "Confusion Bowl" game tomorrow night with the University of Miami Hurricanes in the Orange Bowl stadium. The Ohioans flew in late last night and planned a light workout tonight on Flamingo Field at the Beach.

Irish, With Luck, Could Finish In No. 2 Spot of Grid League

St. Mary can't ascend to the top rung of the ladder in Mid-State league standings by beating Mt. Gilead Friday on the latter's field, but it will be possible for them to rise to second place providing Richwood would obligingly lose to Sunbury.

As the league stands now, Marysville, which wound up its season by beating Sunbury last week, is the unchallangeable ruler in the loop and St. Mary occupies a position just out of the cellar.

If everything runs according to form, though, they will retain their position in third place although going ahead of Mr. Gilead in the standings. As it stacks up now third position is one ahead of last place. It can become two places out.

Richwood and Mt. Gilead are tied for second with a win, a loss, and a tie each while St. Mary trails with two losses and a win.

Can Have Two For Two

A win Friday night will give them a league record of two and two with no ties which would put them ahead of Mt. Gilead who would have a win, a draw, and two losses. Now should impotent Sunbury, which hasn't won yet in the conference, down Richwood, who up to the St. Mary game hadn't won a game and since that hasn't lost one, Richwood would drop into a third place tie with Mt. Gilead, thus making St. Mary the runner up for the title. This is all suppositional and not the most probable thing that will happen, however until tomorrow night no position outside of first place will be clinched. St. Mary can also end in the basement should Sunbury win and they lose.

Coach Fetter will start his seniors against what could be called the Mt. Gilead Campbell team. If Mt. Gilead scores it will likely be one of the Campbell boys who is lugging for the tally. At quarterback, right half, and fullback is Dick Campbell, Nelson Campbell and Pete Campbell. To make the matter further confusing none of these boys are related. Also in the backfield is Lefthalf West who has a one out of four chance of breaking into the scoring column.

Outstanding Ground Gainer

Nelson Campbell is probably the outstanding ground gainer on the Mt. Gilead squad. Pete Campbell is the toe for the squad while Dick is a new name in the starting lineup. On the line fleft end Tennant is reported to be the best player both offesively and defensively.

The host gridders tomorrow night will go into the engagement against the Irish assault forces with a record of two wins, five losses and a tie.

Their wins were over Sunbury and Bellville, one whom St. Mary has beaten and their tie was with

Hopes for Notre Dame Revenge Rest on Lujack's Ailing Right Ankle

Irish Quarterback Injured In Final Pre-Army Practice Tilt

By The Associated Press

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 7—All of Notre Dame's skyrocketing hopes for revenge on the Army after two long years of waiting rested today on one sprained ankle

This was the ailing right ankle of Johnny (The Wing) Lujack, who quarterbacked the Irish to their last gridiron win over the Cadets back in '43

Lujack is so hot and so vital in the signal calling, forward passing and, especially, the defensive machinery, that Notre Dame Coach Frank Leahy says he's better than his predecessor, Angelo Bertelli. And "Bert" you remember, was so good in his day they just about wrote songs and named their children after him around here.

Hurt Ankle Yesterday

Johnny Hurt his ankle yesterday as the final full dress drill for Saturday's super colossal clash with the Cadets in New York was just about winding up on Cartier field, and only a couple of hours after teammates elected him and halfback Gerry Cowing as the Army game co-captains.

Today all hands sweated out with finger nail biting anxiety the final word from Dr. Joseph Caton, the school physician, as to whether the 21-year-old ace would be aboard the train with the 36-man squad when it heads east at 4 p m.

But just giving Lujack the railroad ticket and his lower berth isn't the part that has the Irish worried. Johnny must be on deck, ready to roll Saturday, or the best Notre Dame team in three years—the outfit even the assistant coaches believe might whip Army by 20 points to atone for the 59 and 48 point beatings of 1944 and 1945—hasn't more than a prayer.

Army Pass Does It

Ironically enough, it was while practicing defense against an Army pass play that the quiet, likeable ex-sailor from the Pennsylvania coal fields, who only returned in June from a hitch on a sub chaser in the Atlantic, suffered his heart breaker mishap. He and end Frank Kosikowski, the potential receiver, collided and went down. Even Kosikowski probably wishes he'd been the one hurt, instead.

The squad takes off today with the roof of the Notre Dame gym still shaky on its rafters from the wall-rattling cheers of the student body in the annual pre-Army game rally last night. All 4,500 of them let go time after time—and each time bulged the walls out. And the loudest and longest ovation of all came when a little, sweet-faced bespectacled woman stood up to take a bow. They introduced her as "Mrs Knute Rockne—Mrs. Rock," widow of the famed Irish coach.

Snatches of Sports

By HUGH FULLERTON Jr.
AP Sports Writer

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 7—Although you can't pin it down to any definite words, you can get the idea up here that Earl (Red) Blaik, the Army coach, is more than a trifle annoyed at the bearish tactics adopted by his rival, Frank Leahy, in leading up to Saturday's tussle at Yankee Stadium Leahy flatly predicted an Army victory the other day, but no matter how often he's asked, Red won't give out a forecast Red isn't a guy to weep unnecessarily, nor is he given to over-enthusiasm In fact, you might think he's a cold fish until you realize that he's a man who takes football as a serious business and who calculates the possibilities of victory and defeat just as a business man might calculate profits and posses But when it comes to predicting, Blaik indicated rather plainly yesterday that his Army squad wouldn't take kindly to tears shed for publicity purposes. "It's a team of great character and considerable pride," he added. "They wouldn't like it if I said they'd lose."

* * *

West Point and Points West

Army already is looking ahead to next season when the last remnants of the 1944 and 1945 championship teams will have departed Bobby Stuart, probably the best running back after Glenn Davis, won't be used this season because of the eligibility question. The same goes for other promising newcomers, including tackle Russ Dobelstein, whose brother moved from Tennessee to the pro Giants ... "Dobelstein didn't make the first team so we didn't want to take up a year's eligibility as a sub," Blaik explains .. Latest NCAA figures show Notre Dame is first in total offense and in rushing but no Irish players is among the first 20 individuals in either list .. Garry Schumacher, New York newspaperman, has become assistant to Horace Stoneham, the Giants' president; Arthur Mann, former newspaper and magazine writer, has taken a similar job with the Dodgers' Branch Rickey Could you say they'd rather be president than write?

JACK RAY

FRED EARLY

So closely matched are the Army and Notre Dame elevens this fall that the outcome of the Nov. 8 battle may depend on the educated toes of Fred Early of the Irish and Jack Ray of the Cadets. Ray, left, a senior from Breckenridge, Tex, has Glenn Davis hold on conversions. Ray did not get a chance at the extra-point job until the fourth game of the season. Early, from Parkersburg, W. Va, is shown practicing his specialty with Johnny Lujak holding.

BIXLER ISN'T TAKING PITT GAME LIGHTLY

"Not at All Sure" of Outcome, O.S.U. Pilot Says.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 7—Some Ohio State football followers may be taking Saturday's invasion by the Pitt Panthers lightly, but Coach Paul Bixler of the Bucks is not one of them.

In fact, after 800 Ohio State Journal Quarterbacks' Club members heard Bixler talk last night, many came away with the impression that if football games were just a little shorter the boys from the Smoky City would be undefeated and untied.

"As far as we are concerned," Bixler said, "there's only one game on our schedule—Pitt."

Declaring that he was "not at all sure" how Saturday's game would come out, Bixler added that he was assured "We'll have a sockem attitude and aggressiveness"

Warned by Scout Floyd Stahl that the heavy Pitt line will be hard to move, Bixler worked his squad yesterday with an emphasis on blocking and ended up with the first stiff scrimmage of the week.

All of the Bucks first three teams are expected to be ready physically for Saturday's game, although third string guard Bob McGinnis of Wyoming is doubtful because of an ankle sprain It has been four weeks since Ohio State injuries were so few.

Line Coach Ernie Godfrey, who also instructs the place-kickers, worked with Max Schnittker of Sandusky yesterday, and the 209-pound tackle is expected to relieve Johnny Stungis in attempting Ohio State conversions.

60-Minute Players Vs. Squad Will Be Story, Cadets Think

By The Associated Press

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 7—It will be a team of 60-minute football players against an 11-star squad of players who can be shuttled in and out of a game at the coaches' pleasure when Army meets Notre Dame before 74,000 spectators at Yankee Stadium Saturday.

That's the impression you get from talking to Earl (Red) Blaik, Army coach, and the figures for Army's games so far bear it out.

Given good, cool weather that won't take too much out of his athletes, Blaik obviously expects his starting eleven to go through most of the game against Notre Dame just as it did against Oklahoma, Michigan and Duke.

I have seen Army teams play 60-minute ball and win," was Blaik's only comment when asked how long he expected to keep his starting lineup on the field against Notre Dame

It is obvious from Blaik's conversation, which returns constantly to the quality and numbers of Notre Dame personnel, that he figures the game as a team vs. squad affair

Any pessimism which Blaik may display hasn't been transmitted to the Cadet corps. In their usual display of pre-game fervor, the would-be officers have decorated their barracks with signs which indicate a 100-0 score would would be nothing unexpected. They'll really cut loose tonight in the annual Notre Dame game rally.

The Notre Dame squad is due at nearby Bear Mountain Friday morning and will hold its final workout there.

It's Tag Team Wrestling Tonight

It's tag team grappling at the Marion Armory tonight even down to the preliminary. Four of the best known grapplers in the business will take part in the two-hour main event but there will be two thirty-minute matches before the main go in which Rufus Jones, the colored star, will wrestle Whitey Walberg, the muscle man from Columbus, and Steve Nenoff will trade holds or punches with the gentleman (who is no gentleman), Dale Haddock of Detroit. After the two thirty-minute matches Rufus and Dale will team up against the combination of Steve and Whitey for a two-hour or two out of three tag team match. Its one of Marion's most exciting matches.

The amateurs will have their tag team match at 8:30 in which the team of Dick Merton and Freeman Smith will try to win a fall in 15 minutes over the team of Jim Garver and Dick Levings.

Prices for this all team match show are General 75c, Ringside $1.00 and Kids under 14 years 50c (all taxes paid). Call 2745 after 6 o'clock for your seats —Adv.

Marion Fighters Win 4 Of 7 Bouts With Out-Of-Towners

Marion boxers at W and L Athletic Club here last night won four out of seven fights against visiting opponents while losing two and one ending in a draw, held before a turnaway crowd of 200

The highlight of the fight card was a double k. o which came in the last round of the David Booker-Gene Berry fight. Both boys bumped heads and landed blows at the same time, Dr. Wagner declaring the bout a draw Booker is a 124 pounder from Marion and Berry hails from Mansfield tipping the scales at 126.

The first fight of the evening saw Gene Hunt of Marion decisioned another local fighter, Kenny Chevalier.

Darell Murton of Marion in the second fight was awarded the win over Dick Borlin of Mansfield in a welterweight scrap.

Weighing in at 124, Paul Richardson gained a close decision over 128 pound Ed Knapp of Mansfield.

In the fourth fight, another Marion fighter came out on top. In the 120 pound class Bob Haycraft was awarded a decision over Don Byles of Delaware.

In the middleweight division Art Miller of Mansfield decisioned Cliff Gram of Mt. Vernon.

The next fight was the double knock out.

The seventh fight of the evening was one of the most entertaining bouts, 65-pound Bob Hunt and 85-pound Warren Eckerd fighting to a no decision final Hunt gave the crowd a thrill when he mimicked a pro

In the eighth fight, Norman Richardson won a decision over Dan Kay of Delaware. Richardson was a 112-pounder and Kay weighed in at 118 pounds.

Ollis Lavette, a local 174-pounder was decisioned by Tom Weaver, 174-pounder from Mansfield, in the next to the last match.

In the final fight of the evening Ronnie Blake of Mt. Vernon t k o'ed Jack Draper in the third round.

Ike Jones and Howard Hodges were the judges for the fights, Dr. Wagner referee.

IRISH

Richwood who defeated St. Mary. The other common past opponent the teams have is Marysville which beat Mt. Gilead decisively while eking a win out against the Irish.

The Mt. Gilead club should find Marion the strongest they have been all season, the morale and confidence of the Marion team having zoomed to its greatest height as a result of the victory over Columbus St. Mary. Coach Fetter besides working against overconfidence, has been drilling his charges in pass defense this week. The team is at the point now where they can turn in a smashing victory or be stunningly upset. Had they been able to play in all their contests as they did against Columbus it is improbable that they would have lost more than one game this season.

FOLLOWED BY CUPID. Film lovely June Haver has a bright smile and a cheery wave of her hand for New York as she arrives by plane from Hollywood. According to a movie columnist, the beautiful actress was followed by Dr. John Duzik, of the film capital, with a proposal.

Programs on the Air

NEW YORK, Nov. 7 — Double the number of FM broadcast stations in operation throughout the country is indicated in a compilation just completed by the federal communications commission. The number is now 90, about half of which have gone on the air since the war, and compares with 67 last September.

Most of the stations are on the new frequencies, 88 to 108 megacycles, although 27 still are continuing in the old channels below 50 megacycles pending the time they can transfer.

As more new equipment becomes available the total is expected to show a steady increase until 500 or more are functioning. Meanwhile new FM receivers are being turned out at a faster clip, most of them of a combination type that includes provision for standard broadcasting.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

WHAT it was my father wondered about Hugh Grantland's bizarre arrival with Lee Chow, both dripping wet, at the farmhouse, I was not to know, at least not while we waited for Dr Twitchell's summons outside the door of the subterranean secret room

For he did not speak again, and I, too, kept silent, as did the two boys, although if eyes could have spoken, the walls of the tunnels would have resounded with excited questioning from the lads

The five minutes Dr Twitchell had named was shortened by several seconds but when the door of the secret room opened, and both Dr Twitchell and Katharine emerged it seemed to me as if we had been waiting for hours

Able to Get Help

"He will do now," the physician said, "and Major Grantland is perfectly capable of caring for him He is able to summon help if needed, I undestand"

"Yes, we have an interphone system in the house with an outlet down there" I told him "There are only a few rooms up here connected, and Major Grantland will not speak over the wire unless he knows the voice calling him"

"That seems an ideal arrangement," the old physician said But his air was abstracted his tone perfunctory, and I guessed that now his patients were safe for a little while, his thoughts were turned toward his long delayed dinner

'Mr Brixton is all right also, in Mr Underwood's care?" I queried

Some Light Food

"Perfectly all right," the physician answered "He will need some light food after a little"

"I will write out the order for his tray when I go back to relieve Mr. Underwood," Katharine said, and I went into action

'Dr Twitchell!" I said a bit sharply, "Is Mrs Bickett needed with Mr Brixton, or can Mr. Underwood take care of him adequately?"

"Mr Underwood is perfect for the job, and Mrs Bickett is distinctly not needed," Dr Twitchell said with a twinkle in his eye "I prescribe a night's rest for her"

'Father!" I attacked him next. "Do you need Harry for anything in the next hour or two?"

"Nothing," he said

Coming to Dinner

"Then," I turned to Katharine "You are coming down to dinner with Dr Twitchell and the rest of us as soon as you have written out the order for Sam's tray"

"I do not need to go back to the room for that," she said smiling "I can tell Katie about his tray and the very little food needed for Lee Chow—mostly milk which Hugh can heat down here"

'Then," my father said with decision, 'will you, Margaret Katharine, and Dr Twitchell, go directly to the library" The boys will take your bags back to my rooms, and remain with me while I collect 'Mr K' Then we will join you in the library Dinner will be ready shortly"

In the Library

"By the time we all are in the library," I told him, and then my father led the way up the steps to the hidden chimney door again

We walked very carefully across the attic floor and down the steps When my father had locked the door to the attic stairs again, and started with the boys for his own suite, I went into the conventional hostess routine

'Katharine will you please show Dr Twitchell a lavatory where he can wash up for dinner?'I said. "I will go down to the Underwood suite and collect Lillian, Marion and the two Brixtons"

"I wish you joy of the latter part of your job," Katharine said dryly, and Dr Twitchell chuckled

'If I were in your place I'd swap it for a lion tamer's," he said
